ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS FOR 1882.

The Great Astronomical Event of This Century, and also of the next, is to occur this year, viz., the Transit of Venus across the face of the Sun, on December 6th. Extensive preparations are being made to observe it. The next transit will not occur until the year 2,004, June 8th. The great scientific interest attaching to these transits is because of the means they afford of measuring the distance of Venus from the Earth. At that time, being between the earth and the sun, she is nearest the earth, and of course her parallax is greatest, and her distance can be more accurately measured. By knowing the distance of Venus (or that of any other planet) from the Earth, Kepler's 3d law gives not only the distance of the earth from the sun, but also the sun's distance from each planet, and the distance of all the planets from each other. Fortunately, the great $13,000 telescope of the Warner Observatory will be used to carefully observe this rare and important event, and to measure the scale on which the solar system is built.

The Total Solar Eclipse.—The only other astronomical event of much value to astronomy to occur this year will be the Total Eclipse of the Sun on May 16. The most eligible location to observe it is Egypt. As totality will last but one and one-third minutes but little time will be available to search for the intra-Mercurial planet discovered by myself and Prof. Watson during the total eclipse of 1878. Knowing the lack of confidence many astronomers have regarding the existence of these planets, Mr. Warner designs sending the Director of the Warner Observatory to Egypt to verify his discoveries in this matter.

The Warner Astronomical Prizes.—In January, 1881, Mr. Warner offered a prize of $300 in gold to any American or Canadian astronomer who, during the year, should discover a telescopic unexpected comet. That prize has been awarded as follows: For comet A, Swift, May; comet B, (discoverer not ascertained) June; comet C, Schaeberle, July; comet D, Barnard, September; comet G, Swift, September 16. In addition to these comets, not under the conditions of this prize, are Encke's periodic, and comet F, discovered in England, and by Brooks in this country. It has been a notable year for comets, seven having been discovered, four being under the conditions of, and receiving, the Warner $300 prize, and the observations have been of great value to science. During the past year Mr. Warner has offered a special prize of $300 in gold for the best essay on "Comets, their Composition, Purpose, and Effect on the Earth." One hundred and twenty-five essays have been submitted and are now in the hands of the judges for decision. The Warner Prizes, amounting to $1,500 in all, have given a marked stimulus to astronomical study during the past year.

[See Page 32.]

H. H. WARNER & Co. present their compliments to the public, and their thanks for the unexampled patronage given to their Safe Remedies during the past few years. They have circulated between one and two millions of their "Life Secrets" pamphlet, and in obedience to the demand from every part of the Union they have prepared this new publication, which they shall distribute by the million copies to every corner of the United States. It has been prepared with great care. The physiological and medical articles have been written by most competent hands, with the aim to instruct, to enable man to "know himself," and not for the purpose of creating alarm. The diseases they treat are increasing at an alarming rate, as every physician knows, and they feel that it is a duty they owe the public to spread before it the information which will enable it to cry "halt" to these destructive diseases. The late Dr. J. G. Holland, in one of the latest of his editorials in Scribner's, said proprietary medicines owe their existence to the incapacity of the medical profession to cure the commonest and worst maladies which afflict the people and that, if of proven merit, they are as worthy of public confidence as any reputable and capable physician. Dr. Holland was peculiarly gifted in detecting and giving voice to popular opinion, and he never was a better oracle than in giving this opinion. Life is better than theory, and the healing of the sick is of more consequence than the bigoted clinging to a "code of ethics" which brands everything as "worthless trash" which is discovered by independent investigators and advertised for the public good.

In this pamphlet not a tithe of their testimonials has been given. Read what are printed, with facsimile signatures showing their absolute genuineness, and judge of the many not published, for want of room, which are equally as strong.

The illustration on first page cover is a life-like representation of a South American chieftain and his tribe bringing in their day's gathering of the rare herbs which are the bases of all the Safe Remedies. The fourth page cover represents a South American wharf where the herbs are shipped to this country. The views on the third page cover are of the exterior and interior of the renowned Warner Astronomical Observatory—situated on the finest street in Rochester, N. Y.—erected, and endowed with an income of $5,000 a year, by Mr. H. H. Warner at an expense of $60,000. The famous comet finder, Dr. Lewis Swift, is the director of this well-known Observatory. The Telescope has no superior in the United States, cost $13,000, and is given from photographic views. On the table near the pedestal is a representation of the $1,000 Spectroscope, the finest in the country,—which was presented by Mr. Hiram Sibley, of Rochester, N. Y., the great seedsman, who is also a generous patron of science and education. On this page is given an anatomical view of the abdominal region, indicated by:—1. Kidneys; 2. Liver (in outline); 3. Stomach (in outline); 4. Bladder; 5. Ureters; 6. Artery.

The publishers present to the Ladies a collection of Prize Recipes and Household Suggestions which are regarded as of exceptional and proven worth, and in their use, and a faithful trial of their Safe Remedies, predict for their patrons HEALTH, HAPPINESS, WEALTH AND COMFORT.

THE KIDNEYS.

What Their Office is—Their Diseases and the Description of the Only Known Method of Permanent Cure.

The well-read physician is always concerned if any of his patients have any disease of the Kidneys, since he has so little assurance of his ability to cure. The only purpose of the Kidneys is to extract the urea, or nitrogenous poisons from the blood. This urea is the product of muscular exertion and is the waste which that exertion is always producing. Like the sewage of cities it is a rank poison and if it be not removed as fast as it forms, the blood rapidly becomes thick and instead of nourishing and strengthening the system it develops disease in every organ of the body. There are two Kidneys, a right and left, connected by ureters with the bladder. The blood circulates through an infinite number of cells, and the urine is collected and passed by the ureters into the bladder, thence through the urethra passing out of the system by a voluntary act. If the Kidneys be inflamed, congested or degenerated by excessive nervous strain, the tissue expands unduly, and with the urine, albumen and fibrine, the life of the blood, pass away as fast as they are formed in the stomach, and thus the double work of blood poisoning goes on, the urea remaining in the old blood and the albumen and fibrine escaping into the water. If any of the following things are noticed about the urine it is conclusive evidence that the Kidneys are diseased: A red deposit, a scum upon the surface, an unusual thickness or thinness, a very dark or a very light color, a scalding sensation in passing, a frequent desire to urinate, an unusual odor, a retention of the urine, or a desire to urinate and inability to do so. The above are a few of the hundreds of symptoms which indicate the beginning of aggravated cases of Kidney or liver difficulties, and they require instant attention. Pains in the back and around the loins, severe headaches, dizziness, inflamed eyes, a coated tongue and a dry mouth, loss of appetite, chilly sensations, indigestion (the stomach never is in order when the kidneys or liver are deranged), a dryness of the skin, nervousness, night sweats, muscular debility, despondency, a tired feeling, especially at night, puffing or bloating

PRIZE RECIPES.

[Secured especially for this publication].

Some time ago a New York gentleman, by offering an award for the best collection of cooking recipes, secured contributions of superior merit from all parts of the land. By special arrangement the publishers of this pamphlet have secured the use of some of the best of these recipes and suggestions, and herewith present them, with other choice ones, to the ladies of America. They are nearly all original and of tried worth.

SOUPS—Bean Soup.—Put one quart of beans to soak over night in lukewarm water. Put over the fire next morning with 1 gallon cold water and about 2 lbs. salt pork. Boil slowly about 3 hours, add a little pepper. It is better to shred into it a head of celery. Strain through and serve with slices of lemon to each guest.

Tomato Soup.—3 lbs. beef, 1 qt. tomatoes, 1 gal. water. Boil beef about two hours, until reduced to about 2 quarts of water; then add tomatoes; boil about half an hour; season with pepper and salt, strain and serve.

under the eyes, are all symptoms of Kidney disorder.

Kidney Disease, whether called albuminuria, uræmia, nephritis, fatty degeneration, etc., rapidly develops into Bright's Disease—much faster and surer than a neglected cold runs into consumption—and it is transmissible by inheritance. What, therefore, may be a weakness in one generation is the terrible Bright's Disease in another. There are two motives then urging to prompt attention: self comfort and the physical well being of our descendants. We commit a crime against self in neglecting disease, and a greater crime against society in transmitting disease. All our habits as a people—the changes of our climate, the eating of much meat, the excessive drinking of beverages containing alcohol, the adulteration of our foods, the impurity of our water, and the malarious influences in our atmosphere, all conspire to increase diseases of the Kidneys, and yet regular medical science, from Esculapius to Pasteur, has not gained a point against disease of this organ, and had it not been for independent discovery, which dared defy the "code of ethics," the world to-day would be helpless in the hands of this formidable destroyer.

Our WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, before it became a proprietary medicine, was used by the very best practitioners in the land as a "Godsend to the profession in the treatment of Kidney diseases," as an eminent physician once said, but when it was advertised for the benefit of the suffering and despairing thousands, the disciples of the code hurled their curses upon it. But, it goes on from conquering to conquest, and is winning by its singular merits the proudest laurels ever won from a conservative but just public opinion. It has come to stay, and it intends to put all enemies under its feet and free the people, alike from the prejudice of the professional healers who think more of the code than they do of saving life, and from the fetters of a hitherto unconquerable disease.

Kidney disease may long exist and yet there may be no pain in the organs. It is a peculiarity of diseases of this organ that they frequently develop symptoms of disease of all the other organs, and among the diseases which are often effects of disordered kidneys and which can be removed only by restoring the Kidneys to right action, are the following: Inflammation or Catarrh of the Bladder; Inflammation of the Prostate Gland;

Beef Soup.—3 lbs. beef, 3 onions, 3 qts. water, ½ pt. pearl barley. Boil beef slowly about an hour and a half, then add onions, sliced, and pearl barley (previously well washed and soaked half an hour); then boil about an hour longer. More water may be added, sufficient to have two quarts of soup when done. Season to taste with pepper.

Oyster Soup.—One quart oysters, one pint cold water, one-half pint of milk, butter the size of two butternuts. Put oysters in water and allow to come near to boiling. Skim; then add butter, milk, pepper and salt, and boil a quarter of a minute.

CAKE—Sponge.—Whites of 10 eggs, 1 and one-half tumblers sugar, 1 tumbler flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 small teaspoonful cream tartar, 1 teaspoonful flavoring. Bake one-half hour in a quick oven.

White Mountain Cake.—Two cups sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cup sweet milk, 3 and one-half cups flour, one-half cup butter, 1 teaspoonful soda, 2 teaspoonful cream tartar and 1 teaspoonful lemon.

Feather Cake.—1 cup sugar, 1 cup flour, 1 egg, one-half cup sweet milk, 1 tablespoon melted butter, 1 teaspoon baking powder, a very little salt and 1 teaspoonful lemon.

The Enthusiasm of a Grateful Physician.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 6, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs.—For several years past I have been a great sufferer from disordered Kidneys and liver, for which I have used such specifics as were known to my profession, but without having experienced anything more than temporary relief. During this period one attack in particular was so severe that I was confined to my bed for two months. It would be useless to comment upon the pain incident to such a condition as described. I noticed the public advertisements calling attention to a preparation called WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. At that time my condition was even more precarious than I myself imagined, and some of my attendant friends and relatives have since asserted to me that they did not believe I could possibly live more than a few weeks. I used your remedy and the result has been that I am able again to practice my profession, which, indeed, I was compelled to abandon for nearly 2 years! I have unbounded confidence in the efficacy of the medicine, both from my personal experience, outlined only in brief here, and also from an extended observation of its effects elsewhere. I have recommended it and always shall, both in my practice and otherwise, to hundreds of persons, and it has always acted like a charm.

Yours truly,

Wm. J. Warren, M.D.

Sponge Cake.—Five eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoonful baking powder and 1 tablespoonful water. Beat the sugar and yolks 20 minutes, add flour in which baking powder is thoroughly stirred, add whites of eggs, well beaten, and a teaspoonful of lemon extract.

Fruit Cake.—One and one-half lbs. flour, 1 and three-fourths lbs. sugar, 6 eggs, 1 and one-half pt. sweet milk, 2 teaspoonful of soda, 1 lb. raisins, 1 lb. currants, one-half lb. citron, one-half gill brandy, one-half gill wine, 1 teaspoonful cloves, 1 teaspoonful cinnamon. Make a frosting of whites of 1 egg to each 5 tablespoonfuls sugar. This cake is better when several weeks or months old.

Lemon Cake.—Three cups sugar, 1 cup butter, 1 cup milk, 5 eggs, 4 cups flour. Stir butter and sugar to a cream. Beat the eggs separately. Dissolve a little soda in the milk and mix all together. Sift the flour and put in by degrees. Add juice and grated rind of a fresh lemon.

A High Judicial Opinion.

LOUISVILLE, KY., March 29, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs.—I had heard favorable reports of WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE for affections of those organs, and one of my family being affected, I used the remedy with perfect satisfaction. The remedy deserves and should receive the highest commendations.

How a Wound of the Kidney was Cured.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., May 16, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs.—A year ago on the 19th of April, while working in the railroad shop, a piece of timber caught in the machinery and was then thrown violently across the building, striking me in the side and back just above the hips, producing an injury which was feared would prove fatal. The doctors did all they could for me but were unable to give relief or stop the constant flow of blood into my urine. At this time I began to use WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, and in less than a month I was able to be at work again in the shop and was entirely cured. Of course my wife and I think it the best Kidney remedy in the world.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs.—I have until within a few months past been troubled for years with a disorder of the liver, pains in the back and region of my Kidneys, and also from an incontinency and offensiveness of urine, especially when travelling. I had about exhausted the known sources of hope for relief to no purpose, when I began the use of WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. The effects were all that could be desired by any one. I began to experience an exhilaration and buoyancy of spirits akin to youth. The perspiration came from the pores of the skin in copious quantities. In fact the work of healing and curing went on and soon culminated. I have in mind several persons in this city who have used this remedy upon Cream Cake.—Three eggs, 1 and one-half cups flour, 1 cup sugar, 2 teaspoonfuls baking powder, 2 tablespoonfuls water. Bake in jelly pans, making 4 cakes. Between the layers put a cream made of 1 pt. milk, 1 egg, 1 tablespoonful cornstarch, and 2 tablespoonfuls sugar.

White Cake.—One cup butter, 2 cups sugar, 3 cups flour, one-half cup sweet milk, teaspoonful soda, 2 teaspoonful creamtartar. The whites of six eggs and 1 teaspoon lemon.

Hickory-nut Cake.—One cup broken hickory-nut meats, 1 and one-half cup sugar, one-half cup butter, 2 cups flour, three-fourths cup sweet milk, 2 teaspoonfuls baking powder and the whites of 4 eggs well beaten. Add the meats last.

Paradise Cake.—Three eggs, 2 and one-half cups sugar, 1 cup butter, 1 and one-half cup sweet milk, 4 cups flour, 4 lbs. raisins, 1 small teaspoonful soda.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs.—For several years I have been a sufferer from what my family physician attributed to a diseased condition of my Kidneys, and after he had failed to give me relief I tried your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE and am a well man to-day.

THE NECESSITY OF THE SAFE PILLS.

The SAFE PILLS have been prepared to act in harmony with the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, and these Remedies should always be taken together. Many persons object to using cathartics for fear they will become dependent upon them, but in Kidney and Liver diseases treated by our SAFE REMEDIES, there is no good ground for such fears, because as soon as the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE and the SAFE PILLS have removed the virus from the blood, and restored the Kidneys and Liver to natural action, nature herself will supply the needed cathartic through the Liver and Kidneys, and the use of the PILLS can be discontinued. We cannot impress too strongly upon our patients the necessity of taking our SAFE PILLS at all times, as specified on the wrapper, where use is being made of the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. Otherwise we cannot be expected to perform a cure, for only half of our mode of treatment is followed. Some ask us if any form of cathartic is not as good as ours, and we answer frankly and boldly, no, for the reason that our SAFE PILL has precisely the elements in it necessary to supplement the curative elements in the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, and no other Pill in the market has these elements. Hence the use of SAFE PILLS in connection with the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE will be safe, while the use of the others may be very injurious. The SAFE PILLS are without any question the best as they are the safest cathartics in the market. They are purely vegetable and as they contain no poisonous or deleterious elements they leave no evil effects in their train.

Soft Gingerbread.—One qt. flour, one-half cup butter, 1 tablespoonful ginger, 1 teaspoonful soda into the dry flour, with 1 cup of boiling water. Beat 1 egg and stir in. If not soft enough, add a little water.

Cornstarch Cake.—One cup white sugar, 1 cup butter, one-half cup cornstarch, whites 3 eggs well beaten, 1 cup milk, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoonful cream tartar, one-half teaspoonful soda, one-half teaspoon lemon extract.

Eggers Cake.—One cup sugar, 1 cup sour milk, 1 cup chopped raisins, one-half cup butter, 3 cups flour, 1 teaspoonful soda in milk. Dissolve soda in tablespoon hot water. 1 teaspoon cinnamon one-half teaspoonful grated nutmeg, one-fourth teaspoonful cloves.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs.—Five years I have been afflicted more or less with Kidney difficulty. I have consulted some of the best physicians in the State. They all said that the best I could do would be to keep it in check—but that there was no cure. About three months ago I began to use your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, using the SAFE PILLS as directed, and am truly astonished as well as inexpressibly grateful for the benefit I have received. I have no pain or uneasiness about my kidneys, nor do I void water more than one-quarter as much. Those wretched feelings of languor have departed, and I am feeling capitally. I do earnestly recommend it to all who in any way are afflicted with kidney disease.

SOUTH NORWALK, CONN., June 7, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—For two years I was afflicted with Kidney disease; during that time I suffered fearfully with pains across my Kidneys. Malaria being so prevalent in this vicinity I imagined it was the cause of my sufferings, and I was treated accordingly. I kept growing worse and at times the pains were so excruciating that I would be completely prostrated. I also experienced difficulty in making my water, which was thick and flaky and full of brick dust sediment. After urinating I would be troubled with a burning sensation and a pain in the scrotum. Finally, last fall I was induced to try WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE and I was permanently cured. I cannot praise it too highly.

They Place a Very High Value on It.

GENESEO, ILL., July 13, 1881,

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—At home I am laughed at for my enthusiasm in praising your medicine, but we owe so much to your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE that we hardly know how to express our thanks. My husband, Samuel Chamberlain, first used it, after suffering intensely from Kidney disease. At the time, he was frequently confined to the house, and was considered in critical health. He had used all the other remedies he could hear of, or that our home doctors could prescribe, but without any benefit. His improvement was remarkable when he began on the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, and he says he never knew of anything that gave him the temporary relief that this has permanently given him. Why I believe Mr. Chamberlain thinks as much of your remedy as he does of his imported Normandy horses. The year before, I was myself so afflicted with Erysipelas that you could hardly have touched a spot with a pin that was not broken out, but this year I have been entirely free from eruption and in every way in better health than in years, and I attribute it to the use of the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, which has proved an excellent system regulator.

My husband and I have recommended your medicine until nearly half the town has been cured, and we are accused of being your agents!

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—I have been suffering for the past nine years from the most acute pains in the region of the Kidneys and liver, and during that time have looked forward to nothing less than death by Bright's Disease. About March 1st, I began to use your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. I feel like a young man again.

A Wonderful and Celebrated Case.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 1, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—I am a locomotive engineer and have trod the "foot-board" for 30 years, and am now running on the Rochester division of the New York Central Railroad. Life on the rail, as all engineers know, is exceedingly trying to health and strength. The constant jarring of the engine, the mental strain, and the long trips all conspire to weaken the Kidneys and urinary organs. In addition to these causes, twenty years ago I met with a severe accident in which my fireman was killed outright and I was taken from under my engine with both my legs broken, and with other injuries, which caused me great pain. I was laid up for nine long weary months, and during that time suffered more than I can describe and more than I wish to suffer again. At the end of that time I resumed work, but my Kidneys began to distress me and in all these years I have endured pain which has taken the flesh from my bones, and rendered life a grievous burden. My whole urinary system was involved in what seemed a common ruin. The night brought no peace, and the morning no hope. My water demanded constant attention through working hours and time I should have given to sleep, and its passage produced horrible agony. Under such circumstances it should not seem strange that I was wearying of life. Then came bloody hemorrhage from the bladder and Kidneys, which increased my suffering and weakness a hundred fold. I employed the best medical skill in Rochester and elsewhere, but grew worse and worse. Last May, when suffering from one of my worst hemorrhages, I was persuaded just to try WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. I shared the common prejudice against proprietary or patent medicines, but almost against my will I have been convinced by personal experience that, however it may be with other remedies, there is at least one manufacturer who makes genuine and trustworthy compounds, and whose medicine in my case worked a wonderful and extraordinary cure. As I am a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and I know many of them suffer from bladder and kidney troubles, I want them to have the benefit of my experience. The results were what I had longed after for twenty years, and when I found life and health and strength again, I was overwhelmed with the sense of gratitude. I was transformed by the use of probably 20 bottles of WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE from a hopeless sufferer to what I now am, a perfectly well man.

Yours truly,

EUFAULA, ALA., June 12, 1880.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—My only son when twelve years of age was prostrated with Stricture of the Urethra. In September, 1879, a celebrated New York doctor performed a successful operation upon him by opening the channel. But the nervous prostration following the operation and the disease which had afflicted him for several years, was very great, and relapse followed relapse in quick succession, and his recovery from his complaint and kidney difficulties seemed an impossibility. I tried every expedient known to the profession and the public, but without success. In March, 1880, in sheer despair, without expectancy of relief, I began to give him your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. To my unspeakable and unexpected satisfaction a favorable change followed immediately, and to-day my son is well and filling his place on a physical equality with his fellows in society, in the home circle, and in the business world. The result justifies the highest praise of your wonderful remedy.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—My father, Bishop Wilmer, requests me to write to you and to say that he was not suffering with any of the diseases that "WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE" claims to cure, but that the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE has been taken by two members of the family with beneficial results.

A. B. WILMER.

In a VOLUNTARY LETTER to the editor of the Upper Sandusky (O.) Republican, December 8, 1881, Rev. Alfred Day, a Universalist clergyman, well known in Florida, Ohio and New York, and pastor at Woodstock, O., says: "WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE did for me what other medicines and physicians failed to do. The Florida malarial poison had brought me to the verge of the grave and physicians had pronounced my case incurable. But now, after three months use of the above remedy, the cure is complete."

White Frosting.—Take 5 tablespoonsful of pulverized sugar to the white of 1 medium sized egg. Whip the egg until stiff, adding sugar gradually. Flavor to suit taste (or cake prepared) and spread smoothly over cake with a broad bladed knife frequently dipped in cold water.

Doughnuts.—Take 1 cup rich sour milk, 2 eggs well beaten 1 cup sugar, a small piece butter, (if milk is not quite rich enough), 1 small teaspoonful soda dissolved in the milk, one-fourth nutmeg grated, and a pinch of salt, 2 teaspoonful of baking powder in sufficient flour to make stiff batter. Mix soft, cut even-sized cakes, and fry quickly.

Fried Fritters.—Four eggs 1 pt. milk, the rind of 1 grated lemon, a little salt, flour enough to make a light batter. Beat the eggs into the milk, add lemon, salt and flour. Fry in hot lard and serve with wine.

Jumbles.—One cup of butter, 2 cups of sugar, 1 cup of milk, 4 eggs, 1 teaspoonful soda, six cups flour, a little nutmeg. Roll them out, cut them with a tumbler and a wine-glass to form a ring; dust over with the white of an egg, and sift on a little sugar before baking.

Potato Cakes for Breakfast.—Save from dinner a soup plate of mashed potatoes, add to it half a saltspoonful of pepper, the same of nutmeg, a little salt, and the yolk of an egg; form into small cakes, put in a buttered baking pan, brush the top with the white of an egg, and brown in a quick oven.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—Two years ago I strained my back severely, and since then I have experienced great inconvenience and suffering from my kidneys. I have had all sorts of pains, inability to retain urine, and various symptoms which the doctors thought indicated Bright's Disease or Diabetes. But of all of their prescriptions, and the various proprietary medicines which I took, did me no good until I happened to notice what cures your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE was performing, and tried it myself. It proved just the craft to carry me into the haven of health, and I cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from similar diseases.

Molasses Cookies.—One cup molasses, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup butter, 2 eggs, baking powder, add flour to make a soft dough. Roll and bake in quick oven.

Springfield Rumrill Snaps.—Three-fourths cupful lard, three-fourths cupful butter, 1 cupful sugar, 1 pt. molasses, 1 teaspoonful soda, 1 tablespoonful ginger, 1 tablespoonful spice, then enough flour to roll soft and very thin in rings.

Fritters.—Take 1 qt. milk, 2 eggs, pinch of salt, baking powder and sufficient flour to make a stiff batter. Dip a large spoon in cold water each time the batter is taken with it, and drop 1 large spoonful into boiling lard. Fry a light brown and serve hot.

Trifle.—Take a deep glass and fill nearly full with layers of sponge cake, macaroons and some delicately flavored preserves. Pour over it sherry wine sufficient to soak the cake. Make a custard of the yolks of 4 eggs, 1 pt. milk and pour over cake. Whip the whites to make frosting for top.

White Sponge Cake.—1 cup white sugar, 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, a little salt, 1 teaspoon lemon flavoring, and lastly, the whites of 6 eggs beaten to a froth.

Fig Cake.—2 cups sugar (dark brown) 1 cup butter, 1 cup water, 1 teaspoon each of cloves, cinnamon and nutmeg, 4 eggs, 2 cups chopped raisins, one-half glass wine, 1 lb. figs, 2 cups currants, 3 cups flour and 2 teaspoons baking powder. Alternate with 2 cups sugar, three-fourths cup butter, 1 cup sweet milk, 1 cup cornstarch, 2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder and whites 6 eggs.

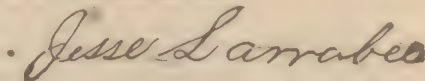

Take Notice.—Most of the persons who have sent us Testimonials have expressed their willingness to answer any letters of inquiry addressed to them, but the writers should always enclose a stamped envelope, in order to assure a response, as it must be clear that otherwise the answering of so many letters would be not only a burden but a great expense which few persons could afford,

Since then I have recommended it to many of my friends, some of whom have been great sufferers for years with kidney and liver trouble, and in every case the verdict has been the same.

Attorney & Counselor

Judge Harden's Opinion.

JUDGE EDWARD R. HARDEN, of Quitman, Ga., who has been twice Judge of the Supreme Court of the United States in Utah and Nebraska, and is well known all over the South and West, writes under date of March 27, 1882, as follows:

"H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—It gives me pleasure to say that I have derived incalculable benefit from using your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. I have been troubled more or less for the last twenty years with kidney disease and inflammation of the neck of the bladder, but your medicine which has wrought astonishing cures in this State, has done me incalculable benefit, and as yet I have taken less than a dozen bottles. Sincerely yours, etc."

Wedding Cake.—One lb. powdered sugar, 1 lb. butter, 1 lb. flour, 12 eggs, 1 lb. currants, one-half lb. seeded raisins chopped, one-half lb. citron, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 teaspoons nutmeg, 1 teaspoon cloves. Use judgment in putting the ingredients together. Bake until thoroughly done in large square tins, lined with buttered paper. Ice thickly and keep in a cool place. Will keep from 6 to 8 weeks.

Yellow Cake.—One cup sugar, yolks of 8 eggs, one-half cup cream, 2 tablespoons butter, one-half cup flour, 1 teaspoon cream-tartar, one-half teaspoon soda, or 2 teaspoons baking powder instead of cream-tartar and soda.

Raised Cake.—Two cups of raised dough, 2 cups sugar, 1 cup butter, 1 cup sweet milk, 2 cups flour, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 cup fruit and cinnamon and cloves to taste.

Cream Sponge Cake.—Two eggs beaten in a cup, fill with sweet cream and add 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 and one-half of flour, 1 heaping teaspoon baking powder and a pinch of salt.

Orange Cake.—One-half cup butter, 2 cups sugar, 3 cups flour, 1 cup sweet milk, 2 eggs, 2 teaspoons baking powder and juice of 1 orange. Bake in layers and put together with icing and slices of oranges, also cover the top with icing.

Jelly Fruit Cake.—Two cups sugar, two-thirds cup butter, 1 cup sweet milk, 3 cups flour, 3 eggs, 1 teaspoon baking powder. Flavor with lemon. Bake one-half of the above mixture in two pans. To the remainder add 1 teaspoon molasses, 1 cup raisins, one-half cup currants, piece of citron chopped fine. Bake in two tins. Put the 4 layers together alternately with frosting and jelly.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs.:—I wrote to you some time ago relative to the benefit I had derived from the use of your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. It is now nearly fifteen months since I commenced its use, and during that time I am glad to say I have not experienced one of the paroxysms of intense pain that were so frequent an occurrence previously. In the light of the fact now stated I think I am fully justified in regarding the results rather in the light of a PERMANENT CURE than of merely temporary relief. If you think it proper you can give the widest possible circulation to this statement. And should it come under the notice of any of my acquaintances similarly afflicted, if they will take the trouble to call on me, I will corroborate its truth by the most emphatic verbal assurance. Of the efficacy of your valuable remedies for the relief and cure of kidney trouble, I am well satisfied from my own experience.

My lasting gratitude is due to you for the consideration and kindness received at your hands, and also to Rev. Mr. Wigg, of Jersey City, through whose high recommendation of your remedies I was enabled to overcome the skepticism by which I had long been controlled as to the virtue of any proprietary medicine.

One of the distinguishing peculiarities in my case is this: that from the time I took the first dose of the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE I have had no return of the excruciating pain from that hour to the present time, a period of nearly fifteen months.

With much respect and sincere thanks, I am sincerely
Yours,

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs.:—For six years my wife has been troubled with derangement of the Kidneys. For the last ten months she has felt as though her whole inside was inflamed. Some days and nights the urine called every ten minutes. She prayed for death time and again. She never felt sick, but the pain and prostration of her nervous system were unbearable. I have had six physicians—some of the most prominent in this city. They all failed to even alleviate her sufferings, but three bottles of your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, one of NERVINE and one of PILLS cured her completely.

Urinary Analysis.—If any person wishes to know if the kidneys are disordered, they can send us in a tightly corked new bottle not less than two ounces of their first morning urine, and with it a statement of the total quantity passed in 24 hours. The analysis will be made for $5.00, the cost price. It is an infallible proof of the condition of the kidneys.

Consultation Free.—H. H. WARNER & Co., employ competent physicians who will answer all inquiries by mail free of charge, and all persons suffering from any form of disease are cordially invited to describe their symptoms by letter and they will be given the best of counsel and prescriptions.

Fruit Jumbles.—6 eggs, 2 cups butter, 1 cup milk or water, 4 cups sugar, baking powder and fruit desired. Enough flour to roll soft, and bake in shapes desired.

Jelly Cake.—1 cup sugar, 1 cup sweet milk, 1 cup flour, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon butter, 3 teaspoons baking powder. Bake in jelly tins and spread with jelly when warm.

Pop Overs.—2 eggs, 1 pt. sweet milk, 1 and one-half pts. flour, and little salt. Bake in hot oven and serve hot.

Jelly for Cake.—One qt. cranberries, 1 lb. brown sugar. Cook as for table use. Then strain through sieve and let jelly.

Suggestions.—To beat the whites of eggs quickly, put in pinch of salt. The cooler the eggs the quicker they will froth. Salt cools and also freshens them. In boiling eggs hard, put them in boiling water, to prevent yolks from coloring black.

Cure as the Finest Preparation Ever Made, for Them.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

A Mysterious Every-Day Kidney Malady Which is Increasing at an Alarming Rate—The Only Method of Cure.

Not many years ago a celebrated physician of London discovered what is known by the name of the discoverer, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. This disease is much commoner than is supposed. It consists of such a degeneration of the tissues of the kidney that it loses its full power to separate the urea, or urine from the blood. The flow of blood through the kidneys is retarded in the minute vessels, congestion follows, and instead of the urine only passing through the walls of these minute cells, the albumen and fibrine, the life properties of the blood, escape, the poisons remaining and eventually the entire blood becomes thoroughly corrupted and ruins every organ in the system. There are many names given to this condition of the kidneys, such as albuminuria, uremia, nephritis, fatty degeneration of the kidney, inflammation of the kidneys, etc., etc, but they are all allied to the dreaded Bright's Disease and will eventually terminate in that fearful malady.

Bright's Disease is not a rare complaint! It is increasing, in some parts of the land, at the rate of 250 per cent a decade. One of the most peculiar features of this form of kidney disease is of comparatively recent discovery, i. e., that it produces general derangement of the tissues and involves other organs of the body even before the kidneys themselves seem to be disordered. No pain will affect them, there may be no albumen in the water, and no casts, and yet Bright's Disease may be present. Prof. Wm. H. Thompson, M. D., of the chair of Materia Medica of the University of the City of New York says, "Bright's Disease has no symptoms of its own, but has the symptoms of every other disease you can think of." Albumen and casts may or may not be present, and the specific gravity is not an absolute test. Dr. Thompson says kidney disease is probably next to consumption the commonest cause of death among adults in this climate. If a man breaks a limb he will expect pain in the injured member, but in kidney disease he may suffer most in other organs of the body. Of course these sufferings are only effects, and the wise physician is he who detects the proper cause. These secondary symptoms of Bright's Disease are among the commonest ailments of humanity and their ordinary occurrence disarms popular suspicion until it may be too late to root out the disease which causes them.

"Oh," exclaims the man of active life, who does not feel as well as he used to, "I haven't any Bright's Disease!" Precisely! You do not feel as well as formerly. Your head aches oftener and your eyesight suddenly proves faulty. The verdict of a celebrated authority on the subject is: "These symptoms are a sure forerunner of Bright's Disease." You have had a recent and mysterious attack of asthma; you have had a hard cold on your lungs which you have been unable to dislodge—you have spit bloody mucous; you have felt a new and singular sensation of heaviness in the region of the heart; you have great depression of spirits without any known cause; you have found it suddenly, impossible to eat whatever and whenever you wish; your stomach has been very sore, your appetite feeble, your bowels irregular; a mysterious weariness comes upon you; your muscular system seems utterly helpless. Dr. Robert of England, Prof. Thompson of New York, and other celebrated authorities, tell us that all these symptoms are sure indications of Bright's Disease!

Dr. George Johnson, a great authority, over 20 years ago pointed out that whatever disease affects the kidneys produces the same effect in the liver, and the purging of blood, nausea, vomiting of bile and food, indigestion, constipation, piles, dizziness, persistent diarrhoea coming on to a person who has always been robust are certain secondary symptoms of Bright's Disease. Having made a tour of the body and finding no other organs which it can destroy, then the disease returns to the kidneys; the back aches intolerably, the urine is dark, full of brickdust deposit and ropy; casts appear, albumen is abundant; then come muscular relaxation and nervous prostration; great puffs appear under the eyes, the countenance is pale and wears an appearance of fright, convulsions ensue, the fatal diarrhoea or pneumonia sets in and death is the end. We expect, when our physician visits our bed-chamber, he will come with the possibility of healing, but there is no disease which he approaches with the certainty of failure like Bright's Disease. This fact is an alarming one, and startles the inquiry: What can be done?

PUDDINGS.—Widow Bedott Pudding.—One cup suet, chopped fine; 1 cup raisins, 1 cup milk; spice to taste; sufficient flour to make thick batter. Steam one hour and serve with butter and sugar sauce.

Orange Pudding.—Line bottom of dish with slices of stale sponge cake. Slice upon this 6 oranges. Make a custard of 1 qt. milk, 5 eggs, leaving out the whites, which beat to a stiff froth, adding the sugar. Cover the pudding with this custard and bake brown.

Yorkshire Pudding.—Six large spoons flour, 8 eggs, salt-egg salt, milk enough to make like soft custard; pour into shallow pan, in which there is a little beef dripping.

Queen's Pudding.—One pt. of bread crumbs, 1 qt. of milk, warmed and poured over the crumbs; yolks of four eggs, well beaten with 1 cup of sugar and one teaspoon of butter. When baked, spread over the top a layer of jelly or preserves. Beat the whites of the eggs dry, and add two tablespoons of sugar and spread over the top. Bake a light brown. Serve warm with sauce, or cold with sugar and cream.

Kiss Pudding.—One qt. milk, 8 tablespoons corn starch, the yolks of 4 eggs, one-half cup sugar and a little salt. Place part of milk, with salt and sugar, on the stove and boil. Dissolve the corn starch in the rest of the milk and stir into boiling milk; also add the yolks of eggs and flour. Frosting.—The beaten whites of 4 eggs, with one-half cup of sugar, flavored with lemon; cover the pudding and nicely brown. Save a little frosting to moisten the top, then put grated cocoanut over the top to give it the appearance of snowflake.

Chocolate Pudding.—One and one-half pints of milk, 8 squares of baker's chocolate grated in milk. Let it come to a boil. When cool add yolks of 8 eggs, 3 tablespoons corn-starch, 1 cup of sugar. Prepare the whites of eggs with sugar, for a frosting. Brown nicely, and serve cold.

Bird Nest Pudding.—Fill pie plate with sliced apples, pour in a little water, cover with baking powder crust (of butter, flour and water, and 1 teaspoon baking powder to each cup of flour); bake to a nice brown until apples are done. Serve hot with sauce of flour, water, sugar and nutmeg.

Note the following facts, with the authorities for each statement made in the above article and draw your own conclusions:

FIRST—More adults are carried off in this country by chronic kidney disease than by any other one malady except consumption. —[Thompson].

SECOND—Deaths from such diseases are increasing at the rate of 250 per cent. a decade. —[Edwards].

THIRD—Bright's Disease has no symptoms of its own and may long exist without the knowledge of the patient or practitioner, as no pain will be felt in the kidneys or their vicinity. —[Roberts].

FOURTH—In the fatal cases—and most cases have hitherto been fatal—the symptoms of diseased kidneys will first appear in extremely different organs of the body as stated above. —[Thompson].

FIFTH—Only when the disease has reached its final and fatal stages may the usual symptoms of albumen and casts appear in the water, and will great pain rack the diseased organs. —[Thompson].

SIXTH—Bright's Disease, which usually has three stages of development—is a universal disease in England and America. —[Roberts and Edwards.]

There is but one remedial agent in the world which has ever cured a pronounced case of Bright's Disease and has thus inspired the confidence of the physician, the patient and the public.

You may search medical works in vain to find any other formula than ours for the cure of Bright's Disease in any one of its three stages. With some patients the disease runs slowly and for years. With others it comes as a thief in the night, but were it not for the power of the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE in whatever form it comes, or however long it afflicts, the human race would be absolutely and pitifully a victim of its terrible fangs for it is the only remedy in the world that has ever cured this great disease. The real nature of this disease was revealed to the world by the microscope in the hands of the unprofessional investigator. It has undoubtedly prevailed for ages but thanks to the independent research of these liberal days, a remedy has been found which is stopping its universal ravages and bringing happiness, peace and health to mankind. Read what has been done by it and do not despair, for "Bright's Disease is Curable."

A Well Known Doctor Cured of Bright's Disease.

Colonel John C. Whitner's Good Fortune.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 3, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—For twenty years I have suffered more or less from my bladder and kidneys. Never having had any disease to produce this, I could only attribute it to an inherited weakness in that direction. During the late war I suffered greatly—was sounded for calculus, but none was found. My business for many years has required me to travel all over the Southern States. In November, 1879, I had a severe attack in New Orleans. Whilst still suffering, about Christmas, I bought a bottle of your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE and in less than a week began to realize some relief, which increased every day. I had to continue my traveling which involved labor as well as exposure to every kind of weather; still my old trouble grew less and less, until I felt comparatively cured, and the improvement in my health was perceptible to everybody. When I take cold however, or am greatly fatigued from travel or work, if I have any trouble it yields readily to your remedy which I always carry with me. My weight has increased from 130 pounds to about 190 pounds, and I can endure a great deal more fatigue than for many years past. In a word, I enjoy a degree of health and strength in every particular such as I had not hoped it possible to enjoy again in this world.

I have recommended your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE to many hundreds of people from Texas to New York. It is a standard medicine among my friends and relatives. I have seen it tried by many of these and have yet to hear of a single case of failure to benefit, after twenty month's acquaintance with it. You can use this as you please. Yours Truly

Indian Pudding.—One quart milk; when boiling add 7 table spoons Indian meal, 1 cup cold water. Then add 1 egg, 1 tablespoon of ginger, two-thirds of a cup of molasses and a little salt. Bake one hour.

Rice Pudding.—One-half cup of rice in three cups of milk. Steam until rice is soft, then add 1 pint of milk, one-half tea-cup of sweet cream and yolks of 8 eggs beaten with 5 table spoonsful of sugar. Place to boil, stirring constantly, then put in an earthen dish. Make a frosting of the whites of 3 eggs and 5 table spoonsful of sugar. Flavor frosting, with which cover pudding, and brown nicely.

Victoria Pudding.—Take the yolks of 5 eggs, beat well and mix with one pint of applesauce that has been strained, flavored and sweetened. Add 1 table spoonsful of flour, 1 oz. of butter, and grated peel of one lemon. Line a dish with paste, in which to bake the pudding. When baked cover with a frosting of 5 eggs, 6 table spoonsful of sugar, and juice of ½ lemon. Place in the oven until a delicate brown.

BOSTON, MASS., Nov. 18, 1880.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—A little over a year ago I was taken sick. I did not know what the trouble was, but I continued to grow worse, and my complaint baffled the skill of my physicians. At last my symptoms developed into that terrible complaint, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, which has been pronounced incurable by all physicians. My sufferings at that time were unspeakable. I was bloated from head to foot; my heart pained me; my pulse was irregular; I was unable to breathe except in short, convulsive gasps. While suffering thus I learned that your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE was a specific for this dreaded disease, and although the prominent physicians of Boston had told my friends I could not live a week, your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE effected a perfect cure in my case, and in the case of many of my friends who have used and been cured by your wonderful remedy. Use this letter in any way, so the people may procure this sure remedy for Bright's Disease—so dreaded and yet becoming so common.

Yours truly,

A Doctor's Remarkable Recital of Fact.

FLINT, MICH., June 22, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—I am 72 years old and have been troubled with a disease that has baffled the best medical skill in the country, being a constant sufferer more or less for the last 26 years. About 25 years ago I began the study of medicine, and attended the medical college to become my own physician and see if there was anything in medical science that would effect a permanent cure for Bright's Disease. I was almost one of the first physicians in Flint, Mich. About a year ago my disease assumed a very alarming form, so much so that I was unable to attend to my own case, and called the best medical aid to my assistance and received some benefit. I finally told my attending physician, as there seemed no permanent help for me and being informed by him that I could not live long, to experiment on me and see if there was anything in the medical world that would reach my case, as I was willing to make a sacrifice of myself for the benefit of mankind. We tried a new remedy that the Medical Board of Philadelphia, Pa., had discovered, but it failed. I was confined to my bed for three months last year not being able to go to my office.

Suet Pudding.—One and one-half cups of milk, 1 cup suet, 1 cup of raisins, 2 tablespoons baking powder and flour sufficient to make a stiff batter. Steam three hours and serve with sauce of flour, water and sugar, flavored with vanilla.

Apple Pudding.—Fill a dish with apples nicely sliced, sweeten them, add spices, nutmeg, a little lemon or vanilla, and cover with a crust; set on the stove until the crust rises, then bake a nice brown. Crust:—One qt. flour, 3 table-spoonsful baking powder, a piece of butter size of an egg, salt, milk enough to mix a soft dough. Sauce:—One egg 1 cup fine sugar, beaten very light; pour a little boiling over until of the consistency of cream. Flavor with vanilla and grate a little nutmeg on top.

Patients are Invited to Correspond with us.

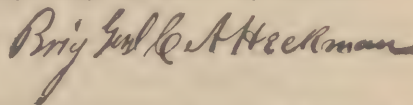

From the high medical testimonials which I have perused regarding the efficacy of your remedies, and upon the suggestions of friends, I began using your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. All physicians are usually opposed to all proprietary properties, for the same is a part of the teachings of all medical colleges. But, sir, I began to improve after taking two bottles, and my progress was so rapid and wonderful that my friends would meet me on the street and remark "How well you're looking! How fast you are improving!" I am taking your remedies every day, and am a well man and able to be at my office every day attending to my business. In fact I have not been so well in twenty years. My wife has been troubled with dropsy. While waiting on me in my sickness she tried your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, and she is almost well, feeling better in health than for a number of years. My daughter, a married lady, who is living with me, is taking your remedy, and she too is being benefited. I will say in conclusion we all take it, and I pronounce it the best remedy in the world.

PHILLIPSBURG, N. J., June 18, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—Having used your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE with great benefit I take pleasure in making it known to the public as a certain cure for Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. I had been afflicted with that disease ever since the fall of 1864, and on several occasions was near death. In October last I had a severe relapse and was confined to my bed for several months, and had given up all desire or hope to recover. Noticing an account of the remarkable cure of B. F. Larrabee, of the New York and Boston Despatch Express Company, I ordered your medicine and it gave me immediate relief, and I am now, and have been since the first of April, constantly engaged at my business. I owe to your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE all the strength I have to day. The doctors all told me I was going to die. When I improved so fast some of my neighbors wondered at seeing me so well, and many of my friends are taking your remedy through the result of my experience.

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 7, 1879.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—I take pleasure in stating that I have for two years past been acquainted with the remedy known as WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, and with its remarkable curative efficiency in obstinate and so-called incurable cases of Bright's Disease, in this city. In some of these cases, which seemed to be in the last stages, and which had been given up by practitioners of both schools, the speedy change wrought by this remedy seemed but little less than miraculous. I am convinced that for Bright's Disease in all its stages no remedy heretofore discovered can be held for one moment in comparison with this. With the hope that your remedy may become as widely known as the existence of the maladies which it will cure. I am, Yours Truly,

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—A little more than four years since our daughter, then nearly ten years of age, was overtaken by a sickness which eventually proved to be Bright's Disease, the result we suppose of suppressed Scarlet Fever. She was constantly under the care of some skillful physician, either in New York, Baltimore, or elsewhere, and yet she did not recover. We determined, as a dernier resort, to try your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. She is certainly stronger and stouter than she has been at any time since the first attack, and there has been no period of the same length since the disease made its appearance, without an unmistakable recurrence of it. She now has the appearance of a higher degree of health than most children of her age.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—A near relative of mine had been suffering over a year with Bright's Disease. She was attended by a leading physician of this city who called in another and they concluded she could live but a very short time, but unknown to the doctors, I commenced giving her the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, and for three months continued the medicine, when she was entirely cured. During that time she weighed only 68 pounds, now she weighs 130 and is the picture of health. After the doctors gave her up she used only the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. These facts are the strongest kind of a recommendation. Yours Respectfully, Plain Plum Pudding.—One cup molasses, 1 cup sugar, one cup milk, 1 cup raisins, 3 cups flour, 1 teaspoonful soda. A little salt. As much fruit as desired. Steam 3 hours and serve with sauce.

Tapioca Pudding.—[With Preserved Apple, Peaches, etc.] Prepare 1 teacup of tapioca with 3 cups of lukewarm water and soaked 5 or 6 hours in a warm place. Sweeten to taste, add 1 well beaten egg and 1 teaspoonful of salt. Place in an earthen baking dish alternately with the fruit, the first and last layers being tapioca. Bake 1 hour. Serve with cream.

Curds and Whey.—Take 1 qt. fresh milk and warm to its natural heat. Sweeten and flavor with either lemon or vanilla to taste. Add a dessertspoonful rennet (which procure fresh from your butcher, cut in pieces and put in a qt. bottle of sherrywine) stir quickly and set aside. Place on ice before serving. Is very nice served with cream.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 26, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs.:—In October 1879 I discovered symptoms of what is called Kidney disorder. I had pains in the back of my head, though there was no pain in the region of the kidneys, and no disorder in the water. I consulted five different physicians in Syracuse who pronounced my illness to be Malarious. They gave me the best skill and medicine they could command, but I grew no better. February 18, 1880, I was taken suddenly with congestive chill, which rapidly developed into pneumonia. I took 45 grains of quinine a day for about a week, and was relieved of that acute disorder, but it was succeeded by an attack of short breath, suffocative asthma, which gave me considerable distress. This symptom was removed after a time by my physician. In April, 1880, examination of my water revealed 50 per cent of albumen and casts, showing conclusively Bright's Disease. From February 17, 1880, until March, 1881, I was wholly unable to attend to my business. In September, 1880, I went to the Poland Springs, Me., and while enroute stopped over at Worcester, Mass., where I was examined by many physicians, several of whom pronounced my malady to be Bright's Disease. They could hold out no hope of cure. I remained at the springs 6 weeks with temporary benefit, but in December following, finding myself running down again, began the use of WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. For the first month I experienced very little benefit from it although I took about a bottle a week. When I had taken 18 bottles, however, I began to get better, my appetite returned and I began to get back some of the many pounds of flesh I had lost. I gained in strength and in June, 1881, I was able to resume my office duties! My general health is now fair. I continue WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE with a full belief that it will restore me fully to my old measure of health. It is certainly a remedy of extraordinary power.

Yours truly,

Snow-ball Pudding.—Two teacups rice, wash and boil until tender. Pare and core (leaving apple whole) 12 large sour apples. Fill the apples with the rice and put it around outside. Tie each one in a separate cloth and drop in boiling water. Serve while hot with cream and sugar or any sauce desired.

Cherry Pudding.—One teacup cream, 1 teacup milk, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teacup fruit and flour enough for thick batter—adding fruit last. Bake in buttered baking dish and serve with sweetened cream.

Mint Sauce.—Three tablespoons of fresh mint chopped fine, 5 tablespoons vinegar, 2 teaspoons of sugar dissolved in the vinegar.

I did not know what the trouble was, but I continued to grow worse and my complaint baffled the skill of my physicians. Last April I went to Ann Arbor before the faculty of the Medical College who said I had Bright's Disease, and I came home feeling that there was no hope for me. I was advised by a friend to try WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, but I scoffed at the idea of that benefiting me, after having been treated by some of the best physicians in the country, who had pronounced my case incurable. But, I commenced using it according to directions and after using three bottles that deathly color left my face and I began to show some signs of blood in my veins. When I had used nearly a dozen bottles, the effect and cure were simply marvelous. I most heartily recommend your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE to all sufferers of that fearful disease. H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs.:—A year ago last May I caught cold and strained myself. At first I took no notice of my condition, but in a short time I found myself suffering from smarting pains across my kidneys and extending towards the abdomen and bladder. My water was very much discolored and contained a considerable amount of a mucous substance. The passage of it would be accompanied by a burning sensation. I gradually grew worse and at last was compelled to give up business, and my physician pronounced my case to be Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. He prescribed for me and I received temporary relief and started again for work. This did not continue long as I was again taken sick. My pains were so severe that I could hardly bend over or move. I became bloated, and large water sacs were forming under my eyes. In urinating I passed large quantities of blood and my urine was impregnated with albumen, my tongue was thickly coated and my appetite entirely gone. My doctor did not speak encouragingly of my case, and my friends and relations had given me up, for in fact I had given up all hope of recovery, and Cracker Pudding.—One qt. milk, 1 and one-half cups sugar 2 eggs, 6 Boston crackers powdered fine, one-half lb. raisins, one-half nutmeg, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, 1 tablespoon butter, a little salt. Mix all together, pour in buttered pudding dish and bake slowly two hours.

Cocoanut Pudding.—Three cups grated cocoanut 1 qt. milk, 2 eggs, 1 cup sugar.

Sauce for Puddings.—One cup sugar, one-half cup butter, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, one-half cup boiling water, the juice and one-half grated rind of 1 lemon. Rub butter and sugar together then add other ingredients—the water last. Put in a tin kettle and place in boiling water, stirring constantly until sauce is very hot.

often felt as if death would be preferable to the great torture I was undergoing. When in this state, my attention was drawn to the case of Mr. Larrabee of Boston. On reading a description of his symptoms they were in every particular similar to mine, and he had been entirely cured through the use of your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. I determined to try it and got a friend to purchase a bottle for me. This was about the second week in March. The first six doses of it made me feel fearful; I felt no pain, but a sickly woe-begone sensation. This did not discourage me as I had faith in the great remedy and continued taking it. On the third or fourth day I began to feel better, and the rapidity with which I was recovering was miraculous. The pains disappeared, my water passed clear and freely, the blood discharges ceased and my appetite returned. What I have stated seems too good to be true, yet it is the fact. It saved my life, and to-day I am at work at the Salem foundry and machine shop doing as heavy and as hard work as any man. I commend it with enthusiasm to all.

THE DAVENPORT (Ia.) Sunday Democrat of April 9th, 1882, in a column review of Mr. Edwin Fay's extensive paper business, says:

"And yet the proprietor of this wide spread business was at death's door less than three years ago, and people shook their heads as they met him on the streets or at his place of business. For years he was troubled with Rheumatism and before long evidences of Bright's Disease appeared. He suffered excruciatingly for a long time, and became pale, weak, nervous, very much reduced and he himself was losing ambition and even hope. WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, however, was taken as a forlorn hope, and in less than three months he was a well man. With purifying his blood, his Rheumatism vanished, and with the effect on the kidneys Bright's Disease also disappeared—his strength, appetite and mental vigor returned. Mr. Fay willingly and cheerfully testifies that he believes that if it had not been for WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE he would have been obliged to retire from business altogether more than two years ago and that he could not have survived the ravages of the disease. The facts in his case are due to the public and doubtless will prove the salvation of other prominent business men of our city."

He attended me for nine weeks but I gradually grew worse. I constantly spat blood and was so bloated that a person unacquainted with me would not have known me. I changed my physicians several times, but their help did me no good and finally they held a consultation, when they pronounced my case hopeless. At this time I saw an article from the pen of Rev. Dr. Rankin of Washington, endorsing WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, and intimately knowing the reverend gentleman I had confidence in the medicine and purchased the remedy. From the first dose I gradually improved, and after taking between fifty and sixty bottles I am able to attend to my work, and I can say it is the only medicine I ever got hold of for the cure of Bright's Disease or any disease of the kidneys. My cure is nothing less than miraculous, and I shall never cease to be grateful to WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE.

THE LIVER.

The Father of all Dyspepsia and the Great Source of Ill Health.—The Diseases of the Organ and the New Philosophy of their Treatment.

A torpid liver is the father of all Dyspepsia and the thousand and one ills that proceed from that universal and distressing complaint. The liver is the largest gland in the body, weighing from three to four pounds, and measuring about twelve inches from side to side and six inches from front to rear, and when so large an organ gets out of order the whole system feels it. It is situated on the right side of the body, under the right lung, and extends over into the left side and under the left lung, resting against the stomach and also against the right kidney. The right lobe is six times larger than the left lobe. The entire structure of the Liver is spongy, filled with veins and ducts, and its color is dark red.

The chief purpose of this organ is to take from the blood the rank poisonous fluid called the Bile. This bile is collected into a pear-shaped sac under the Liver and is used as a digestive and cathartic element. When the Liver fails to take this poisonous matter from the blood, the skin assumes a yellow appearance, the eyes are coated with yellow fat, there is exceeding torpidity of the bowels, and one may judge of the great importance of removing this poison from the blood when he knows, for instance, that this accumulation produces those disgusting objects called "boils." The bile is composed of hydro-carbon, and the other rank poison that the blood contains is nitrogen, which is removed by the kidneys. If these two poisonous elements are not removed the Liver itself becomes affected in its structure, the kidneys in sympathy break down, and the blood which should carry health and strength to every part, carries disease, discomfort and death.

The diseases of the Liver are congestion or inflammation, enlargement and jaundice. Affections of the Liver, as well as affections of the kidneys, will produce dropsical swellings and apparent heart disease; but these disappear if the Liver and kidneys are in perfect working order. Tubercles, cancers, and other unusual diseases often attack the Liver. Jaundice is caused by suppression of the bile entirely, either by mechanical obstruction or by nervous action.

Whatever may be the condition of the Liver we find that it is reflected in the condition of the stomach, in the color of the countenance, the degree of the appetite and the general tone of the system. In a country like ours where the changes of climate are so marked and persons are so exposed to colds, the Liver and organs dependent upon it are subjected to frequent congestion. This of course produces stomach disorders, headaches, constipation, piles, and the thousand and one ills which attend such disorders. Perhaps seven-tenths of the people of this country are more or less afflicted with Torpid Liver, and particularly is this true of American women. The kidneys, which lie below the Liver, are so intimately related to the Liver that whatever disease affects one organ will produce sympathetic effects in the other, and hence it follows that if a person has kidney disease of any chronic form, he is quite certain to have a similar disease in the Liver, and vice versa. It is also a fact that medical authorities have heretofore been unable to propose any remedy which would positively cure the chronic forms of kidney disease, (which are enumerated in other parts of this work,) consequently it follows that the reason why there has been so little success in the treatment of Liver diseases by the regular schoolmen is that they have had no remedy at their command which would drive the disease out of both organs and out of the system at the same time.

WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE and SAFE PILLS, both discoveries of a skillful practitioner, are compounded on the theory that a medicine to be efficacious in kidney and Liver diseases must have equal power over diseases of both organs. They are purely vegetable compounds which have been in the market a number of years. They have been tried in thousands of cases, and the best confirmation that can be had of the soundness of the theory of their composition is the indisputable fact that they have cured when all other remedies utterly and completely failed.

Liver troubles are aggravated to a very large extent by the universal prevalence of Malaria. This insidious poison is found as well upon the rocky slopes of our mountain ranges, as in the low and swampy lands of our river bottoms, in the crowded city, and in the roomy country. It is the basis of disease in general, and it is almost impossible to handle any other disease with success when Malaria is at the basis of it. The Malarial Poison seems to have an especial affinity for the Liver, and when once it is thoroughly introduced into the system it is a very difficult matter to drive it out by any other remedy now known to the world. But as success is the best criterion of true merit, we claim for our WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE and SAFE PILLS a power over Malarious Diseases which no other compound now in the market can equal.

We need not emphasize the importance of the women of America keeping the Liver in thorough and natural working order, because if this organ is deranged the blood thickens, then poisons accumulate, these poisons inflame and destroy the tissues of the other organs of the abdominal regions and produce those distressing disorders, bearing down, uterine tumors, prolapsus, etc.

Our SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE and SAFE PILLS taken together as prescribed have unequalled power and success in the treatment of all diseases of the kidneys and Liver. They are pure vegetable extracts, prepared in the most careful manner, and can be taken with the utmost confidence and safety.

Pumpkin Pie.—One cup stewed pumpkin, one-half cup of sugar, 2 eggs and milk enough to fill pie plate. First line pie plate with crust, then beat eggs and sugar together, adding pumpkin and milk. Season with cinnamon, nutmeg, and allspice to suit the taste. Bake well done. (The above makes an excellent squash pie, substituting squash for pumpkin).

Orange Pie.—Beat until quite light the whites of 3 eggs and 5 tablespoons white sugar, the juice of 2 and grated rind of 1 orange. A little salt, and one-half pt. milk. Then beat the whites to a stiff froth, and stir in lightly. Bake with under crust.

Lemon Raisin Pie.—One cup chopped raisins, 1 lemon, 1 cup cold water, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 cup sugar. Bake with upper and under crust.

THAT RICH EXPERIENCE.

A Free Press Interview Sustained and its Source Revealed.

Detroit Free Press.

A few months ago an interview with a prominent and well-known physician, formerly a resident of Detroit, but now living in New York, appeared in the columns of this paper. The statements made by the doctor and the facts he divulged were of so unusual a nature as to cause no little commotion among those who read them, and many inquiries were raised as to the genuineness of the interview and the validity of the statements it contained. The name of the physician was at that time suppressed at his own request. The seal of secrecy, however, can now be removed, as the important and interesting letter which appears below will abundantly show.

After an exchange of courtesies and a few reminiscences about the war, in which the doctor was a prominent surgeon, the interviewer remarked upon the physician's improved appearance, upon which he said:

"Yes, I have improved in health since you last saw me, and I hope also in many other ways. Why, when I knew you in Detroit, I would no sooner have thought of violating the code of ethics laid down by the profession, or of prescribing anything out of the regular order, than I would of amputating my hand. Now, however, I prescribe and advise those things which I believe to be adapted to cure, and which my own personal experience has proven to be such. I obtained my first ideas upon this subject from having been cured after all my care and the skill of my professional brethren had failed to relieve me. For months I suffered untold agonies; dull, indefinite pains in various parts of the body; a lack of interest in everything around me; a loss of appetite; headaches; all these disagreeable symptoms were added to pains which were both acute and constant. Sick as I was, however, I became restored to health in a most surprising manner and in an incredibly short space of time, and it was this that proved a revelation to me. We have no right in the medical fraternity to sit back and declare that we have a monopoly of the remedies which nature has given to mankind. There are great changes going on in every department of life, and there are great developments in medicine as well. I propose to use the best wherever I find it. Any man, be he politician, preacher or physician, who is so considerate of his pocketbook or of his own personal ends as to stultify himself by suppressing the manifest truth, is unworthy the name of man, and unworthy the confidence of the public whom he serves."

Now for the sequel of that interesting interview:

Editor Detroit Free Press:

Some time ago a reporter of your paper had an interview with me which he said he would like to publish. I consented on condition that you would not mention my name until I gave you permission. I have now accomplished the purpose I had in mind, and wish to say to you (which you can publish or not as you see fit) that I had debated for a long time whether I would shake off some of the professional fetters that bound me with others for years, and tell the truth, or not. When I looked back, and thought of the tortures, like those described by Dante in his trip to the infernal regions, which I endured from dyspepsia for years, and recalled how much I would have given at that time for the relief which I have since obtained, I determined I would take the step so long meditated, and thereby discharge a duty to my fellow men. If I could thereby save one poor mortal one night of the terrible suffering I endured, I would be fully satisfied, be the other consequences what they might.

My wretched condition was produced by a torpid Liver, which did not, as a consequence, remove the bile from the blood. This produced derangement of the stomach, inflammation of its coats, dyspepsia, constipation, headache, hot and dry skin, depression of spirits, yellow complexion, fat-covered eyes, chills and fever; in short, I was miserable to the last degree! I appealed in vain to my books, to my skill and to my fellow physicians. The mystery of my ill-health grew deeper. I traveled everywhere—exhausted all authorized expedients—but to no purpose!

When in this frame of mind, desperately in need of help, but expecting none, one of my unprofessional friends called my attention to some unusual cures wrought by a prominent remedy and urged me to try it. I emphatically declined. But secretly, and with the firm determination that I would never let anybody know what I had done, I began its use. It was only an experiment, you know, but for that matter all medical treatment is experimental. Well, to make a long and surprising story short, I experienced a sort of physical revolution. My skin got a better color. My liver resumed its functions. I no longer had to arouse the bowels with cathartics. My headaches disappeared with my dyspepsia; but still I was not convinced. "Nature did it," I reasoned. But, determined to push the investigation to the extreme, while I was in active work, I tried the effect of the remedy on my patients afflicted with kidney, liver and urinary diseases, watching every development carefully and studiously. Then I was completely disarmed, for the remedy stood every test imposed!

Under such convincing circumstances, the matter of confessing my cure became a question of conscience and of duty to humanity. "Here is a remedy," I said, "that has done for me what the best medical skill of the country could not accomplish, and as an honorable man I can not suppress the facts". I therefore write you and most unhesitatingly assert that for all diseases of the kidneys, liver, stomach or urinary organs which are amenable to treatment, WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE surpasses any remedy I have ever known or used, and since physicians have so much ill-success in the treatment of diseases of these organs, I am prepared to accept all the consequences when I say that they are, if conscientious, in duty bound to use this pure vegetable compound in their practice.

Yours very truly,

J. W. SMITH, M. D.

A Masterly Victory over Old Diseases.

WYOMING, OHIO, Sept. 2, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs—Some months ago I received by mail one of your pamphlets in reference to your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, and laid it aside without reading it. About a month ago I was attacked with a return of Chronic Dysentery, with which I first suffered while in the Union Army during the war of the Rebellion. In September 1864 I came to Cincinnati, and was engaged in mercantile pursuits until January 1874, when I was appointed Assistant Postmaster of Cincinnati and was so occupied until the 31st July last, when I gave up my position, and have been confined at home 12 miles from Cincinnati, treating myself for the complicated ailments with which I have been a sufferer for eighteen years past. For several years after I came out of the army in 1863, when I was 45 years of age, I suffered with Chronic Dysentery, deranged kidneys, liver and dyspepsia. During this time I had been treated for these diseases by several excellent physicians, all of the allopathic school, who gave me temporary relief, but did not cure me. In addition to this I used nearly every remedy recommended for these troubles.

After suffering with all these infirmities for eighteen years, and all this time engaged in arduous office work, I came home a month ago with the fear that I was completely broken down and would never again be able to attend to business. In the midst of my sufferings I thought of your pamphlet and hunted it up and read it carefully and determined to quit my physician and try your remedies. I purchased the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, NERVINE and PILLS, and have now been using them during the month of August.

The result is that my Chronic Dysentery, pain in the back, dyspepsia and nervousness are all gone, and I digest and assimilate my food properly. My spirits are revived. My flesh is increasing and the woe-begone look of my face has disappeared, and I feel I am now on the right road to returning health once more, and as a Christian man I feel thankful to God for my improved health, and to you as the instrument through whose hand I have received this blessing.

Chicken Salad—The white meat of a cold boiled or roasted chicken or turkey. Cut three-fourths the same quantity of celery into small bits, mix thoroughly with the well minced meat and set in a cool place while preparing the dressing. Rub the yolks of 2 hard boiled eggs to a powder to which add 1 teaspoon of salt, 1 of pepper, 2 of white sugar and 3 teaspoons of salad oil, adding the last a few drops at a time, then add 1 teaspoon mustard. Whip 1 egg to a froth and beat it into the dressing and over the whole pour one-half cup of vinegar, 1 teaspoonful at a time, whipping constantly. Sprinkle a little salt over the meat and celery and pour the prepared dressing over it, tossing with a large silver fork until thoroughly mixed. Turn into salad bowl and garnish tastefully with whites of eggs and sprigs of bleached celery tops.—Marion Harland.

To Pack Ham.—Eight lbs. salt, 4 ounces saltpeter, 4 ounces salaratus, 3 lbs. sugar to 100 weight.

To Pack Beef.—Four qts. salt, 4 lbs. sugar, 4 ounces saltpeter to 100 weight.

CHICAGO, ILL., June 7, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—I was taken sick about one year ago with an attack of Bilious Fever. My doctor after treating me pronounced me cured, but in a fortnight I got sick again with terrible pains in my back and sides. I got so bad that I could not attend to my business and I was advised to go to Colorado Springs. My friends told me that I had consumption. I had gone from 215 pounds to 170. I had been taking medicine for my Liver but it did me no good. I did not expect to live a year. I happened to see in a Chicago paper some great cures performed by WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. I began its use; my appetite returned, my pains left me, my entire system seemed renovated as if by magic, and after taking six bottles I am not only as sound as a dollar, but weigh even more than I did before, and to your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE I owe my life.

His Liver was Like a Stone.

STOCKTON, CAL., March 29, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—Four years ago I broke down completely with kidney and Liver Complaint; since then I have not been able to attend to my business or be about at all. My Liver became hard like a stone, my legs were swollen and filled with water to my waist. All the best physicians agreed that nothing could be done for me. At this stage I resolved to try your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. I have taken ten bottles. The stony feeling in my Liver finally disappeared, and the swelling and water have left my limbs entirely. Your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE has worked a miracle in my case, otherwise I should now be in my grave. Yours Truly, Spiced Beef.—Chop tough beefsteak (raw) and piece of suet size of an egg. Season with pepper, salt, and a little summer savory. Add two eggs, $\frac{1}{2}$ pt. bread crumbs, 4 or 5 tablespoons cream and a small piece of butter. Mix and work in roll, with enough flour to keep together, and bake in a pan (with a little butter and water) like a roast. Slice when cold.

Chicken Cheese.—Two chickens boiled tender, chopped not too fine, and seasoned with salt and pepper. Boil 3 or 4 eggs and slice, with which line moulds and pour in the chickens, and add liquor they were boiled in. Slice cold.

Fricassee Chicken.—Soak the cut up chicken in salt water 20 minutes. Then put in a kettle in cold water enough to cover and cook until tender. Then season with pepper and salt and butter, and thicken with flour and water.

Chicken Pot-pie.—Prepare and cook chicken until within 20 minutes of being done. Prepare a dough of one qt. flour, butter to make about as short as biscuits, salt, a teaspoon baking powder, and cold water. Roll and cut in small squares, place in a steamer over boiling chicken and steam. When done remove, and prepare chicken as for fricassee and serve.

Where is No Poison or Injurious Substance in our Remedies

AN ALL-IMPORTANT, POINT.

There is no use denying the statement that there is a strong prejudice against the use of proprietary or patent medicines. This arises from two sources: One is the invariable condemnation of such medicines without discrimination by the medical profession; and the other is the palming off of worthless and poisonous stuff on credulous people. People who are sick and unable to secure aid from doctors would resort to proprietary medicines if they were assured that the remedy would have good effect on the disease. Of course the manufacturers of these patent nostrums assert that their medicines are free from poison, but they would not dare to have their compounds submitted to chemical examination. H. H. Warner & Co., however, not only assure the public that all their Remedies are pure and wholesome, but they are absolutely so, as will be seen by the following evidence from the pen of S. A. Lattimore, Ph. D., LL. D., Professor of Chemistry in the University of Rochester, and one of the analysts of food and medicines for the Board of Health of the State of New York

CATARRH OF THE BLADDER.

Description of a Terrible Disease, Produced by a Cold, and Curable Only by One Remedy.

It is quite unnecessary to state that a "cold" is the fruitful mother of all forms of acute inflammation, and of course acute inflammation prepares the way for chronic diseases, and chronic disease introduces death into the world, and all our woe. In scientific terms a "cold" is a catarrhal inflammation of the mucous membrane of any organ of the body. In ordinary language, catarrh is known as a cold in the head, a cold in the lungs being pneumonia, consumption, bronchitis, etc., in the bowels, peritonitis, in the muscles and joints, rheumatism, in the kidneys Bright's disease, and in the urinary organs inflammation, or Catarrh of the Bladder. A "cold" is produced by a sudden closing of the pores of the skin by changes of weather, exposures to drafts, etc. One of the commonest and at the same time most obstinate and painful manifestations of a cold is Catarrh or Inflammation of the Bladder. The inflammation usually commences at the neck of the bladder, and extends throughout the entire mucous membrane which lines kidneys, ureter, bladder and urethra, forming false membranes and pus-filled ulcers which eat their way into the abdominal cavity producing hemorrhages and causing the most agonizing death. During an attack of this disease there is a constant desire to pass water, but as the inflammation has paralyzed the muscles and the power of expulsion is very much weakened, the water is forced out in dribblets, it burns like a stream of sulphuric acid, is filled with a thick ropy pus, and the agony which attends urination simply beggars description. If you have in the bladder and urethra a scalding pain, an aching pain, or a cutting pain, with chills followed by fever, sympathetic pains in the thighs and the other organs, constipated bowels, hot and dry skin, tenderness in the lower part of the abdomen, you may be sure you have Catarrh of the Bladder and that the only hope of cure you may have is in a prompt and generous use of our SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. Urination does not relieve the desire to pass water; sometimes there is an involuntary flow of water; then again the urine may be drawn off only by means of instruments. The suffering in this disease, which may eventually terminate in gangrene and the rotting of the organs, baffles all description. It is simply horrible, and death is preferable. It is attended with great nervous prostrations, loss of all virile power and wasting away of the flesh. The kidneys and liver first feel the effects;

Roast Turkey and Chicken.—Clean, wash and lay in soft water half an hour, then wipe dry. Fill with dressing of moistened bread crumbs seasoned with butter, pepper, salt, and sage to taste, or summer savory if preferred—then sew up and truss. Put in roasting pan with water in which is a large piece of butter, and baste often until about done. Also put pepper and salt on outside of fowl with bits of butter, or what is better very thin slices of fat salt pork. Chop the giblets fine to add to the gravy (when fowl is done) which thicken in the pan with flour and water. Cook fowl until tender and to a rich brown.

Use Cranberry sauce and currant jelly with fowls, veal, ham and game.—Capers or nasturtiums with mutton, Mint sauce with roasted lamb—Pickles with fish.

Once Cured does not Mean Always Cured, gravel is deposited and becomes an added source of anguish, hemorrhages follow and death is welcomed as a sweet relief. Candid physicians admit, owing to the organic derangement of the kidneys accompanying this disease, that until our SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE was discovered, there was no certain remedy for this disease. Our SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, however, (supplemented with the SAFE PILLS,) is a specific for this disease and has won some of its most signal triumphs over pain and death in its treatment of all forms of bladder derangements, as the following testimonials will show. It restores the kidneys to natural action, this removes the irritating elements from the water, the mucous linings are soothed and restored to health, the constitutional tone is regained, appetite and flesh return, pain disappears, the glow of health and the smile of happiness once more mantle the cheek and wreath the face with contentment, and a well grounded hope of long life succeeds despair and the certain prospect of death.

A Miracle of Healing.

NEW YORK CITY, Aug. 26, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:— In November 1880 I was taken with what the physicians said was Catarrh of the Bladder. My water was filled with a ropy mucous deposit, and urination was accomplished with the greatest agony. My appetite left me; I fell away in weight from 150 lbs., to 120 lbs. My friends did not believe I could possibly recover, and intimated as much to me. I was certainly a very sick and almost hopeless man. My physicians treated me for several months, but although better at times I would grow worse again and this was completely discouraging. So utterly was I used up by this dreadful disease—which was brought on by a cold settling in my bladder—that I was confined to the house for eight weeks. I lingered along in this uncertain condition until May 1881, when I made a trip to Rochester, to visit my brother-in-law, Mr. Wilcox, near East Avenue, on Bay Street. The second week of my stay in Rochester I was again prostrated with the disease and was confined to my bed. It was at this time when hope seemed utterly gone that I heard of your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. Mr. Wilcox alarmed at my condition said to me, "Mr. C. W. you are a very sick man. You get no cure from the use of your physicians' remedies. I tell you what you must do: I know Mr. H. H. Warner, Manufacturer of WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, like a brother. I know he is an honorable, candid man, and would not link his name to anything that is not Bread Sauce.—(A good addition to game and roast fowl). Put an onion on to boil—when boiled take out the onion and add to the liquor a pint of milk. When it comes to the boil add to it a cupful of very fine bread crumbs and a small piece of butter and let it boil slowly for a long while (say 20 minutes) beating it with a spoon meanwhile so as to have it nice and smooth. Season to taste.

Stuffing for Turkey and Roast Meats.—Mix thoroughly with stale bread crumbs, a liberal quantity of bread crumbs, adding salt and pepper to suit taste, and 1 egg lightly beaten. Season with summer savory or sage, or if preferred, oysters chopped may be added. Mix thoroughly adding water to moisten if necessary.

first-class and entirely trustworthy. The SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE is a wonderful remedy and I am confident it will cure you if you will take it." On such assurance as this from one of your neighbors, I laid aside my prejudice. "I received no benefit from what my physicians had given me, and why not go outside?" I said to myself. Well, sir, I began to get better from the very first dose. My appetite became natural—I gained over 25 pounds of flesh. To-day all my bad Catarrhal symptoms have gone and my general health is excellent. Indeed, I am practically a well man. I am over 50 years of age, and never felt better in my life. I have taken 15 bottles, all told, and shall never be without it. I consider it an invaluable medicine.

"It Set me Back Twenty Years."

NORWICH, CONN., July 6, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—I have been troubled about eight years with periodical attacks of Inflammation of the Bladder and kidneys, so called by my attending physicians, until about a year ago when it became seated. I suffered with distressing pains in the back, detention of the urine, caused by a stoppage of the neck of the bladder and a complication of other things. While the medicine prescribed would relieve me for a short time, no sooner had its effects worn off than I was in a far worse condition than before. I was hardly able to attend to my business, and at times I would be completely prostrated. Finally I was advised by a friend to try WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. I did so, and it effected a complete cure. It set me back twenty years. I would highly recommend it to all who are afflicted with kidney troubles. Yours Respectfully,

M. B. Cole

Roast Ham.—Take your ham, prepare a common paste of flour and water and roll it out. Roll the paste round the ham and bake it, allowing about the same time as you would for boiling. This is a very good way, retaining all the flavor and does for either fresh or smoked hams.

Beefsteak and Potatoes.—Take a large and tender steak, bone it, and scatter over it bits of butter, salt and pepper and a little sage and finely chopped onions. Over that spread a thick cushion of mashed potatoes, well seasoned with salt, fresh butter and a very little milk. Roll up the steak with the potatoes inside, and fasten the sides and the ends with skewers. Put the steak into a baking pan with a large cupful of stock or gravy and let it cook slowly, basting like a chicken. Serve with a rim of mashed potatoes around the platter and garnish with watercress.

In Such Agony!

167 COLLEGE ST., BUFFALO, N. Y., July, 188.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—I live in Erie, Pa., and have been a resident there all my life. For the last fifteen years I have been an intense sufferer from a disease termed, by all of the skilled physicians of my town, Inflammation of the Bladder. These gentlemen have succeeded in doing me no good except temporarily. I have used all of the patent medicines in the market with like results. About six months ago I was in such agony that I could not walk a square without utter prostration. I was also affected with an incontinency of urine to an alarming degree, indeed it demanded attention as often as 40 or 50 times per night. The pain which attended the horrible disease was something too fearful to contemplate. I was cross and peevish, too, to a degree too terrible to mention. About April last Dr. Carter, who keeps a drug store in Erie, asked me to try WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. He said his confidence in it was great. I had no confidence in it, and only began to use it upon his recommendation. The doctors in Erie are said to use it in their practice. I also used the SAFE NERVINE with it. Now for results: I have used about ten bottles and the effects are something most marvelous. I have gained strength wonderfully, can sleep two or more hours at a time without interruption and feel refreshed thereafter; can work, can walk any reasonable distance, and, whereas my kidneys used to throb fearfully, and horrible pains follow, now I am entirely free from them. Any one who wishes more explicit particulars can get them by addressing either the writer in person, or Dr. Carter, of Erie. I will not dwell upon my gratitude—that is too deep and sincere for expression. The number of persons is simply great to whom I have recommended this remedy. They have all used it with the most marked benefit, just as I have. This remedy cured me also of Malarial fever of two years standing, for which I had never found any relief. Yours truly,

Miss Kate King

At this time the urine was thick and filled with albumen. I tried various remedies, but found nothing that gave me any permanent relief. I consulted our best physicians, and for about fifteen months I was under their treatment. My bladder at last became involved, and every symptom pointed to Catarrh of the Bladder. I was compelled to use a catheter whenever I evacuated the urine, and I was, in short, in a terrible condition. At last I began to use WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. I took three doses the first evening, and the next morning was able to evacuate the urine without the aid of a catheter—the first time I had been able to do so for more than a year! I continued to use the remedy, and the results were simply astonishing. I have now used nine bottles, and have not felt as well for months as I do to-day. This wonderful remedy has done all that it claims to do, in my case, and I believe I owe my life to its sterling powers.

DIABETES.

A Disorder of the General System Which is Regarded as Helpless, but of Which There is One Sure Cure.

There are 180,000 physicians in the world—56,000 in the United States, 32,000 in Germany, 35,000 in Great Britain, 26,000 in France, and 10,000 in Italy, and yet they cannot, with all their learning and skill, cure Bright's Disease, Diabetes, or Consumption! Diabetes is called "a disorder of the general system, of which the principal symptom is a very much increased flow of urine." There are two forms of this distressing disease: Insipid Diabetes, and Sugar Diabetes, the former being known by an increased flow of tasteless urine, accompanied by a terrible thirst; the latter in addition by the presence of great quantities of sugar in the water. The kidneys which take the urine from the blood discharge unusual amounts and the bladder which seems unable to hold water for any length of time, demands constant attention. Diabetes comes from a Greek word which means a syphon and indicates a condition of a "constant discharge" of water.

There is no definite cause of the disorder, but nervousness, hysteria, great mental anxiety, dissipation, use of ice water when heated, and exposure to cold damp weather, are among the commonest causes of the malady. The specific gravity of the water is low. The thirst is something intolerable, day and night, the skin is dry and harsh, as a rule, the general health may be poor, and the patient is very liable to secondary inflammation of some other vital organ. Dr. Roberts, a great English authority on kidney diseases, says "it is a very unmanageable complaint. It generally resists treatment and not unfrequently runs a fatal course—always so if it arises in organic disorder of the nervous centers."

Diabetes Mellitus, or Sugar Diabetes, is generally marked by the presence of from 8 to 12 per cent of sugar in the water, with high specific gravity, great physical weakness, loss of appetite and flesh, great thirst and general debility. It prevails most among males, and the chief exciting causes are essentially the same as of Diabetes Insipidus given above. It comes on slowly and often before one knows he has it, it has become chronic. The symptoms are similar to those of Insipid Diabetes, except they are greatly intensified, and involve the entire system in ruin and despair.

Boiled Chicken.—Clean and split open the chicken and broil it on the gridiron over a clear fire. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, spread it with the best fresh butter and serve on a hot platter with a few sprigs of watercress around it. Sieve the lettuce salad with it. Dress the salad with oil, salt, pepper and vinegar.

Baked Leg of Mutton.—Whip a leg of mutton with a clean wet cloth, run a sharp, thin-bladed knife between the skin and the flesh where the leg is thickest, in such a manner as to form a pouch for the stuffing; remove the skin and bones from 2 red herrings and pound the flesh to a smooth paste, which season highly with pepper; force this paste under the skin so that it will not escape in cooking, and bake.

Salt Pork and Apples.—Cut half a pound of nicely cured pork in slices quarter of an inch thick, fry them slowly until brown in deep frying-pan, and take them up on a hot dish. Meantime wash, wipe, and slice six sour apples, and when the pork is taken up put them into the frying-pan to cook until they are tender, but not broken. Lay them on a dish with the pork and serve them hot.

Standard medical authorities differ as to the cause of this distressing disease, but they admit their inability to propose a cure. Beyond dietetic regulations they have nothing of value to offer. The consequence is that death claims the diabetic patient as his own in a shorter or longer period, and there is nothing which can make him unloose his grip except our "SAFE DIABETES CURE," which seeks out the hidden cause whatever it may be, drives it from the system, and thus brings back the glow and beauty of health. WARNER'S SAFE DIABETES CURE is a purely vegetable compound, free from all deleterious substances, and the following record of some of its achievements is the best proof of its power over diabetic diseases of all kinds. The Worst Form of the Disease.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Jan. 2, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—For months I have been afflicted with Sugar Diabetes—the worst form. All the alarming symptoms usually manifest in this disease were present. I was treated by the best physicians, but continued to grow worse. At length I heard of the remarkable results your SAFE DIABETES CURE is affecting and I commenced the use of the remedy. There was a favorable change almost immediately. The symptoms rapidly disappeared and I gained strength and improved in health each day.

Passed Twelve Quarts of Water a Day!

WYANDOTTE, MICH, April 19, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—I had been suffering about two years with Diabetes but did not know what was the trouble with me. I was passing six quarts of urine at night (eight hours) and I believe a corresponding amount through the day. I had an insatiable thirst and wanted to drink all the time, and although a very stout man I felt weak and languid; in fact I was tired out by 9 o'clock a. m. My business is such that I had to be on my feet, and almost on the run, all day, so that I thought when I read your instructions concerning diet and rest I would not get much relief. But to my surprise I got better every day right from the VEGETABLES.—Boiled Cauliflower.—Cut off the leaves, also stalk close to the bottom of the flowers. Place for a few moments in cold water, then put in salted boiling water and cook until tender. A piece of coarse netting tied about it will prevent its breaking. Serve hot with a little drawn butter poured over it, and each person eating with a little vinegar if they desire.

Onions Stuffed with Kidneys.—Peel six large onions, cut about an inch from the top of each, scoop out the center so as to admit a piece of kidney about an inch square, lay the onions in a saucepan, season them with salt and pepper, cover them with cold gravy or broth of any kind, and stew them gently for 2 hours; take them up carefully without breaking them and serve them hot. The pieces cut from them should be chopped fine, mixed with any bits of kidney remaining from the dish, mixed with double their quantity of cold chopped potatoes, or bread soaked in cold water, and tried for a supper dish. Any kind of kidneys can be used.

start, and when I had used only half a bottle of your SAFE DIABETES CURE I felt so much better that I sent to you for a supply. I make about a pint of water every four hours, but last night I was eight hours without and then passed only a little over a pint, so that I consider myself cured.

Would Give $10 a Bottle for It.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 15, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—About a year ago I was taken with the Sugar Diabetes. I would have spells of vomiting, and weakness in my knees so that I could not at times stand up, and would be continually using the urinal on an average of every fifteen minutes both day and night. Finally it came to be a regular thing and I got a little uneasy, so that I had a consultation of doctors and they analyzed my urine and found 30 grains of sugar to 4 ounces of urine, or within five degrees of Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. I then immediately put myself under the care of the doctors, but as their treatment was rather slow I came to the conclusion I would try your SAFE DIABETES CURE, and have been at it for about seven weeks and have taken almost two bottles of it, and feel like a new man. I advise all to have this valuable medicine if they have to pay ten dollars a bottle for it.

HAMILTON, OHIO, Sept. 3, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—For more than two years I have been suffering with a serious liver disease which was gradually assuming a chronic form. After a time the kidneys became involved, and my body bloated terribly. My breath came in short quick gasps, the beating of the heart was irregular and spasmodic, while dull heavy pains darted through my loins

Saratoga Potatoes.—Pare very nice potatoes, cut in small squares and place in cold water for 15 minutes. Drain quickly and fry in boiling lard until a nice crisp brown. Serve immediately.

Stuffed Potatoes.—Take large, fair potatoes; bake until soft, and cut a round piece off the top of each; scrape out the inside carefully, so as not to break the skin, and set aside the empty cases with the covers; mash the inside very smoothly, working into it while hot, some butter and cream, about half a teaspoonful of each for every potato; season with salt and pepper, with a good pinch of grated cheese for each; work it very soft with milk, and put into a saucepan to heat, stirring to prevent burning; when scalding hot, stir in 1 well-beaten egg for six large potatoes; boil up once; fill the skins with the mixture, replacing the caps; return them to the oven for three minutes; arrange upon a napkin in a deep dish, the caps uppermost; cover with a fold of the napkin, and eat hot; or you may omit the eggs and use a double quantity of cheese.—Marion Harland.

and across my back. I consulted our best physicians, who after making a chemical analysis of the urine pronounced my disease to be Sugar Diabetes. I was treated by the different schools of practice but grew worse. I tried every remedy I could hear of but found nothing that gave me any relief. My stomach at length rejected food and drink, and physicians informed me that I would shortly be compelled to use a catheter. Finally I began to use WARNER'S SAFE DIABETES CURE. The effect was immediate. I began to grow better at once, and now after taking three bottles only all distressing symptoms have entirely disappeared, and I am on the high road to health and happiness.

He Finally Found the Right Remedy.

YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO, Aug. 6, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—In February last, while living in Ottawa, Canada, I was informed by Dr. J. A. Grant, who made an analysis of my urine, that I was suffering from Sugar Diabetes. He made a careful examination in February, and decided that there was an inflammation and an accumulation of clotted blood. The blood was removed and I had no further trouble from that source. At this time I could not ride the seven miles to our iron mines without being greatly inconvenienced. I soon found myself growing weak, and in the early afternoon would be too much exhausted to attend to even the mail. In May I lost thirty-five pounds of flesh and had considerable pain of a burning nature. During all this time I was under the physician's care [Dr. Grant] but derived only temporary relief. In June I was becoming so drowsy that I could hardly keep awake during conversation, much less when not occupied, and I thought it might be the result of a disordered liver. Having seen some remarkable cures attributed to WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE I concluded to try a bottle and see what it would do for me. It proved to be helpful in improving my general condition but had no apparent effect on the flow of saccharine matter. While using a second bottle I happened to notice that for Diabetes there was a separate and distinct medicine—WARNER'S SAFE DIABETES CURE, and accordingly I bought a bottle. It not only cured me of my diabetic symptoms, but even removed the coating from my tongue and roof of the mouth, and restored me to full and perfect health! I have recommended the remedy everywhere.

Drank Two Pails of Water a Day!

CAMILLUS N. Y., June 27, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—In 1878, I was seized with Diabetes Insipidus. My condition soon became most alarming. It took me one-half hour to get into my carriage. Two pails of water per day were barely sufficient for my thirst. The doctors said I could not live more than three or four months. I began to use WARNER'S SAFE DIABETES CURE. The albumen which I then passed has almost disappeared. I can get in and out of my carriage as quickly as any body. I weigh 250 pounds. I have told almost everyone around here of my case and it has sold 1000 bottles of that remedy. I have urged many of my friends to use it all along the canal, and the results have been something marvelous, never having yet heard of a single case where it has been used without benefit.

Wasted Away to Skin and Bone.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 18, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—I have been treated by noted physicians for Diabetes and two of the best in this city told my friends I could not live two months. My health was completely undermined. I wasted away until I was little else than skin and bone, and at that time by actual measurement passed fifteen pints of urine in twenty-four hours. I am now as well and strong as any man in Onondaga county, weigh 190 pounds, have done a very hard summer's work, and thanks to your invaluable SAFE DIABETES CURE, can bid defiance to doctors and disease! I have taken pleasure in recommending your great remedy to others, and they have been using it with equally good effect.

The Mystery Cleared Away.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 29, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—My wife for two years was afflicted with a mysterious disease. By close examination we discovered that she had Sugar Diabetes—so pronounced by her brother who is a physician in the east. He also said he knew no cure for it, and that she probably would not get well. She lost thirty pounds in three weeks. In despair we began the use of your SAFE DIABETES CURE, and following the directions for diet, etc., faithfully for several months, she was finally perfectly cured and as well as she has been in years.

Yours truly,

Guarantees of Trustworthiness.—H. H. WARNER, the senior of the firm as general agent of the celebrated Mosler & Bahmann Safes, is well known to the commercial world as a man of honor and conscience whose name alone is a guaranty that whatever he puts before the public is worthy the utmost confidence. He was himself cured by the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, when his physicians regarded his death from Bright's disease as inevitable, and knowing how prevalent were kidney diseases and how incapable the medical profession were to heal them, he regarded it as his duty to humanity to purchase and manufacture this remedy on a scale large enough so that all the world might enjoy the blessings which it confers.

The Safe Remedies are prepared after the most approved principles of science, by the best chemists, and they cannot be successfully imitated. The proof of their excellence is the fact that they are having the most extensive sale of any specific proprietary preparations ever put upon the market. Special precautions should be taken by our patrons that imitations, counterfeits and valueless substitutions be not successfully urged upon them.

Warner's Safe Nervine is not a narcotic nor a brain poisoner. It is unrivaled for all nervous disorders, sleeplessness, prostration, mental anxiety, the physical exhaustion so common among mothers and business men; for neuralgia, headaches, etc., etc. It is particularly valuable as a Nerve Tonic after an attack of kidney, liver or urinary disease, and as it is perfectly harmless—"safe", and peculiarly effective it enjoys a wide and steadily increasing public demand.

Warner's Safe Tonic Bitters.—Our Safe Tonic Bitters are composed of the best herb extracts, and challenge comparison with all others in harmlessness, effectiveness and agreeable taste. In the spring of the year many people feel "dumpish." They have no organic disease. Their system simply lacks tone, a bracing up which will strengthen them against disease and put new life into the blood. It is for this purpose that our Tonic Bitters were prepared. They are a medicine and not a substitute for "strong drink." They are particularly nourishing to weakly children, women whose maternal duties have impaired the buoyancy of their spirits and health, and they impart vim and virile strength to the young man and woman, and restore and nourish vigor in the middle aged and old. The manufacturers claim that there never was a Tonic preparation placed on the market which can compare with them for safety and effectiveness.

Potatoes.—Potatoes should be put in boiling water. All meats for soups in cold water. Onions and turnips are improved by first parboiling about 15 minutes. The test of good flour is by the water it absorbs, not by its color. In washing fowl to ascertain when done put a skewer into the breast; if tender the fowl is done. Vegetable oysters are good with every kind of meat. Beets, peas and beans with boiled or roast meats. Carrots, parsnips, turnips, greens and cabbage are eaten with boiled meats. Mashed turnips, onions and apple sauce with roast pork. Tomatoes with every kind of meat.

Potato Rolls.—Take well mashed potatoes and add pepper, salt and butter and a little milk. Add 1 well beaten egg to every 6 potatoes. Make into rolls, cover with flour and fry brown in butter.

Cabbage Salad.—Cut or chop the cabbage fine. Beat well the yolks of 2 eggs and stir in salad oil, a little at a time until it is stiff. Add a teaspoon of salt and mix with the cabbage. Beat whites to a stiff froth and stir all together. Let get thoroughly cold before serving.

WOMAN AND HER DISEASES.

Synopsis of a Lecture Delivered by Mrs. Dr. Kenton before the Woman's Society of New England.

[New York Home Journal].

Introducing her lecture, which was heard by a large and refined audience, by reference to the true position of woman in society, and how her physical condition affects her social and intellectual condition, the lecturer continued:

They who have made careful investigation tell us that heathen women are much more able to endure pain than are the women of civilization; but civilized women resent the charge that they are weaker because they are civilized. A distinguished writer says: "If the women of civilization are less able to endure the taxation of their physical resources than are heathen women, it is a mere accidental circumstance and one within their control." When the body is healthy, beauty is certain to appear, even in features once plain. With health and beauty in all their attractiveness a new life dawns, enjoyment begins and all the luxurious attendants of a healthy body come forth. The maiden feels the glorious possibilities of life; the mother becomes conscious of the grandeur of maternity and the joys of a family. * * * The Creator has given both woman and man perfect physical forms, and each is constitutionally equal to all natural demands. If women believe in the fatalism that disease is a necessary condition of their existence, it is chiefly because the schools of medical practice have been incapable of competing with the multitude of ills, which, by personal carelessness or professional incompetency, they have permitted to fasten upon women. * * *

A few weeks ago I received a call from a charming lady, who stated that she believed she was suffering from a paralyzed liver, and wished to know if I could in any way aid her recovery. There is no doubt that thousands of women are suffering to-day, from similar troubles, who do not recognize their cause so nearly as this lady did. Paralysis means death of the member paralyzed, and torpidity of the liver is the first stage of its dissolution. A torpid and diseased liver carries the elements of disease to all the other parts of the system. With an imperfect liver comes biliousness, languor, a sense of bearing down, constipation, displacements, uterine troubles and the thousand ills which are coupled in their train. Then follow impure blood and all the evils which an imperfect circulation cause. No woman is ever seriously sick for any length of time when the blood is pure, and no blood can be impure when the liver and kidneys are in perfect order. * * * I feel it my privilege to-day to state that I believe there is a means whereby women who are suffering can obtain complete relief, and those who are in health be continued in its enjoyment. A few years ago a prominent and wealthy gentleman residing in Rochester, N. Y., was given up to die of Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. By means of a simple and purely vegetable remedy he was restored to perfect health. So efficient did this remedy prove in the case of many well-known men, that it began also to be used by ladies, and to-day, thousands of women in all parts of the land, owe their restored health and continued happiness to the wonderful power of WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE AND SAFE PILLS. * * * The first cause of ill health is impure blood. The performance of the natural functions of womanhood and motherhood is not a disease, nor should it be so treated. If, however, the blood be impure, it is certain to produce poisonous effects in the parts with which it comes in contact, and thus cause inflammations and the innumerable ills which make the physical life of woman so hard to endure. I am aware a prejudice exists against proprietary medicines, and that such prejudice is too often well founded, but we should discriminate, —not condemn all because some are inefficient. The merits of WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE AND SAFE PILLS have been proven beyond a doubt, because they deal directly with the causes of all female troubles.

The lecturer closed with an enthusiastic commendation of this wonderful remedy, and urged her hearers to judge of such remedies on their merits and not through senseless prejudice. The lecture produced so much comment among the ladies, and so much inquiry that the Home Journal the following week presented its readers with the following explicit and flattering supplemental article:

Realizing that no subject can be of more vital importance or of interest to all readers, than the condition of the women of America, we have collected and prepared with considerable care, additional facts bearing upon the subject to which we gave so much space in our last issue. The minds and manners of American women are all that can be desired; but it is a lamentable fact that their physical frames are far inferior in comparison with their social and mental characteristics. The women of England are noted for their florid health; those of Germany for their strong constitutions, and the ladies of France for their exuberance of spirits; but American women possess too few of these qualities in any prominence, and all of them only in a slight degree. The reason for this must be plain to every careful observer. Sedentary ways, devotion to fashion—but above all and more than all, carelessness and indifference to daily habits and duties, have rendered the women of this land far less strong and healthy than it is either their duty or privilege to be. This irregular and indifferent manner of living brings about the most serious results and is both directly and indirectly of untold injury to the race. The cause, therefore, being manifestly under the control of the women themselves, the power to remove it must naturally be theirs also. To maintain one's health the organs which make and purify the blood must be preserved in, or restored to their normal condition. These organs are the kidneys and liver. It is the office of the kidneys to take from the blood acid poisonous matter which has been collected from all parts of the body and pass it off through the urine. If they are impaired in their action, they cannot do this work, the poison accumulates, all the organs in the body, which are sustained by the blood, are weakened and give away and finally the kidneys and neighboring organs become the source of great pain and, without prompt relief, death is certain. It is the office of the liver to extract biliary impurities from the blood, and utilize part of them for digestion and a part for cathartic of waste food. If the liver is disordered, all forms of dyspepsia occur, the bowels cannot expel the waste matter, and the most distressing inconveniences follow. This is especially true in the case of women. And if the bowels are thus inactive and overloaded, the neighboring organs, which are particularly dependent for their right action upon the state of the liver, bowels and kidneys, become displaced, and the consequences which ensue are of the most serious nature, resulting in dyspepsia, falling of the womb, catarrh of the bladder, distressing inflammation of the urethra and in fact of every organ in the lower part of the abdominal region. WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, the remedy described in the lecture to which reference has been made, is receiving, as it certainly merits, the warmest praises of the women of the land. It is a pure and simple vegetable remedy which is now doing more to bring health and strength to the American women than any one thing which has ever been discovered. It acts directly upon the liver, kidneys and adjacent organs, soothes any inflammation, allays all pain, and places those organs in a condition to bring health to body and happiness to life.

Such a lecture and such frank and notable comment carry their own convictions. H. H. Warner & Co. feel a natural delicacy about publishing the testimonials of the ladies, as they themselves do not covet such notoriety, and hence the few testimonials given, herewith are presented to the public at the solicitation of the writers themselves, who say the women of America should know all about the wonderful power of the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE and the SAFE PILLS.

COYSTERS.—Fried Oysters.—Place oysters to drain and when thoroughly dry, dip first in the whites of eggs, then roll in cracker dust until completely covered, dip again in the egg and lastly in the cracker dust, taking special pains to have the oysters thickly covered. Have a kettle of boiling lard prepared into which drop the oysters, and fry as quickly as possible to a nice brown. When done place in a dish to drain and serve hot.

Could Human Being Suffer More?

BEVERLY, MASS., Sept. 21, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—I was taken sick ten years ago and for nine years I was confined to the bed. During that time, it would be impossible for me to put in language the tortures that I underwent. My first troubles were falling and retrocession of the womb. I was obliged to undergo a number of operations for tumors, formed. Thereupon, I was attended by two of the most eminent physicians in this country, but I grew worse, until after four years suffering, I had at last Bright's disease and then of course my sufferings were increased. A number of times I was given up to die. Death indeed would have been a happy relief. For a number of weeks I was out of my head, and my physician stated that every day he expected me to die. It was this termination, as he said, of Bright's disease.

•However, I recovered from that spell and for a while was better. The analysis of my urine showed large quantities of albumen and casts. Oh! what excruciating pains I suffered in my left side and across my abdomen toward the bladder. I lay upon my right side so long that great bed sores formed, which were perfectly raw.

I gave all the different remedies, said to be good for Bright's disease, a thorough trial without receiving any benefit. In fact they made me worse. Cold chills crept over me up my spine and through my head also. My appetite was entirely gone—what little nourishment I took was hardly sufficient to keep life in me. Last January my husband purchased ten bottles of your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE and prevailed upon me to try it. I had no faith in it whatever, because I thought it similar to other proprietary remedies I had taken. Yet I began taking it. When I first began it I was not much more than skin and bone. After the third bottle I began to improve. I continued it and it was not long before my appetite

Steamed Oysters.—Select large oysters, drain and place in steamer over kettle of boiling water. When done, season with pepper and salt, and serve hot on soft-buttered toast.

Scolloped Oysters.—Butter an earthen pudding dish, and fill with alternate layers of crushed crackers and oysters—the first layer should be the crushed crackers—wet them with a mixture of the oyster liquid and milk. Then a layer of oysters, which sprinkle with salt, pepper, and small bits of butter the size of walnuts. Let the top layer be of crumbs, and add a beaten egg to milk to pour over it, and put bits of butter quite quickly over it. Bake about one hour.

TEAS AND COFFEE.—Creole Coffee.—Three-fourths Mb. Old Government Java, one-fourth Mocha, mix. Take 1 tablespoonful of coffee for each person and 1 extra. Place the coffee in a bowl into which stir 1 egg well beaten. Pour on sufficient hot water and let come to a boil.

How the Chinese make Tea.—The tea is put in a clean tea-pot and hot water poured on it and left to stand fifteen to twenty minutes and steep. Here is the way we make our tea. 'He thereupon took off a cover with a cushion of cotton two inches thick on the under side and lifted out a pretty porcelain tea-pot that was nicely set in the center of a lining stuffed around two inches or so in thickness with cotton. The tea-pot, after the boiling water is poured into it upon the necessary quantity of tea, is set in this non-conducting receptacle and steeps fifteen minutes,' said the Celestial, and then served.

Tea.—Black tea is a more healthful drink than green, and the flavor of the best Oolong is as agreeable as any to the majority of tea drinkers. Tea, like coffee, should be served as soon as made, and not allowed to be injured by steeping. The water used should be boiling hot.

returned and I steadily gained in flesh. I have taken altogether 27 bottles and now I am up and around attending to my household duties the same as before my sickness. I have gained so much in flesh that my friends and neighbors look upon me in astonishment.

Before I began taking your remedy I used to suffer dreadful menstruations and great flowing during that period, which would last for about two weeks. I would have convulsions and I was also afflicted with hemorrhoids. In fact it really seemed as if I was afflicted with every ache, pain and ailment that flesh is heir to. After I had taken your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE remedy for some little time, I began to recover from the difficulty I experienced with menstruation. While for years I was obliged to go to bed during that period, now, since taking WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, I am entirely free from my sufferings in that respect. In fact, I am now able to work during that period. The hemorrhoids have left me. It is at times hard for me to realize the wonderful change—I am endowed with new life, all owing to your magnificent remedy! I sincerely pray that others who are suffering may take it and receive its great benefit. My case is so prominent here that any one who desires to know more about it can write to Beverly and they can receive the desired information. Your remedy is a blessing to American women.

BOSTON, MASS., Aug. 15, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—After having become thoroughly cured, I improve this opportunity of expressing to you by letter my thankfulness for the great good your magnificent remedy, WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, has done for me. About four years ago I began to be troubled with intermittent pains across my back which gave me no particular uneasiness until I began to grow worse. At that time I was afflicted with a weakness that my sex is subject to at my age—change of life, and was greatly debilitated. Our best physicians treated me for some time without success. Becoming disgusted with the physicians, I began taking advertised remedies but met with no success. My condition became serious. The pains I suffered were constant and inexpressible. If I sat down and tried to rise it seemed as if I would faint away. I could not stoop over and it was with the greatest difficulty that I ascended the stairs, being obliged to rest a number of times in so doing. I could not turn over in bed without assistance. My water was so thick you could almost cut it. This spring I gave up all hope. I was completely prostrated and to give you an idea of how low I was—I may say I was confined to my bed and not expected to live. Finally one evening my husband was reading an article relative to the wonderful cures by your remedy, of parties whom he knew by reputation. He concluded to purchase a bottle and have me try it and, without the slightest exaggeration, after I had taken a few doses of it I experienced a peculiar feeling—so soothing—such a relief. I cannot describe it. However, I continued it and before finishing that bottle I was up and the pains had almost left me. I could walk up and down stairs without much difficulty. After I had taken three bottles I felt as well as ever! The pains, the weakness and general debility had entirely disappeared; my water was clear as ever. Four bottles of it cured me. Well again! It seemed too good to be true! My heart was filled with joy and gladness. I sincerely hope and pray that all women who are suffering as I did—and the majority do so suffer in this country—will take your remedy, as I know it will cure them. I cheerfully give you permission to publish this.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—During the past sixteen years I have been a great sufferer from a female weakness. I have been under the care of every physician in Springfield with one exception and have employed eminent doctors from neighboring cities, especially Chicago, but grew weaker until the last doctor told me I could not live. At this time I began to use WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. The first dose put me to sleep, the second enabled me to turn over in bed for the first time in three months and at last I have recovered my health and have non-plussed my physicians.

BREAD—Corn Bread.—One qt. sour milk, 3 eggs, 2 tablespoonsful butter, 1 tablespoonful sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful salt, 1 teacup flour and enough cornmeal to make a good batter, 1 teaspoonful soda, or enough to make the milk frothy. Stir thoroughly. Bake in long pans or gem tins.

Yeast that will not Sour.—Two oz. hops boiled in 2 qts. of water. Put 1 cup brown sugar in a jar. Boil and strain hops and pour in the jar. Add 1 cup of flour and stir until smooth. Let it stand in a warm kitchen until it ferments. Add about 4 potatoes boiled and mashed, also a little salt.

Muffins.—One qt. milk, 2 eggs, 1 piece butter size of an egg, 1 heaping tablespoonful of sugar, a little salt, 2 heaping teaspoons baking powder sifted in flour sufficient to make batter the stiffness of sponge cake. Bake in quick oven.

Spanish Buns.—One pt. sugar, 1 cup milk, 1 pt. flour, 1 pt. butter, 4 eggs, 1 tablespoon cloves and one of cinnamon, 3 teaspoons baking powder. Bake in square tins and ice thinly.

Bright's Disease is Surely Curable.

GRAVEL.

A Brief Description of a Common and very Painful Disease and How It can be Prevented and Cured.

Urinary calculus, generally called "stone" or "gravel," is a deposit or precipitation in the water of the solid material of the blood. The waste material of the system is known as uric acid. This waste should be carried out of the system through the water, otherwise it poisons the blood. Red brick dust is uric-acid gravel. This uric-acid gravel will collect around a blood clot or mucous, or any obstruction in the kidneys, water passages or bladder, and form what is called a Stone. When nature attempts to expel this hard substance from the kidneys or bladder, there suddenly seizes hold of the patient the most agonizing pain, which does not remit until the foreign substance has got into the bladder or has been expelled from it into the urinal. Besides this uric acid substance, the kidneys in disease send down alkaline formations which are white gravel. When large uric acid stones get into the bladder they have to be removed by a painful surgical process called lithotomy. If they are alkaline they are dissolved by acids injected into the bladder.

The presence of Gravel or stone in the bladder or kidneys is an evidence invariably of diseased kidneys. It is generally understood that the nature and successful treatment of kidney diseases is the most baffling problem presented to physicians and they have no agent which can certainly cure, the diseases of this great purifying organ. The most trustworthy evidence that a Stone has been formed in the bladder is a smarting and burning pain felt after urination and occasionally the stoppage of water caused by Stone filling the passage. The most philosophical method of curing this horrible disease with all its evil consequences, is to restore the kidneys and liver to their proper action so that the uric acid and other poisons shall be carried out of the system through the water without being deposited as sediment either in the kidneys or bladder, and to dissolve and carry out Gravel formations which have already accumulated. Our SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE is the only agent that can possibly restore a diseased kidney or bladder to natural, healthy action—dissolve stones already formed and prevent their formation again. When the kidneys, liver and bladder are performing all their offices, according to nature, there can be no such thing as a formation of Stone or Gravel.

Gems.—Take 1 qt. graham flour, 1 egg, a little salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, rub into the flour a small piece of butter and add sufficient water to make a stiff batter.

Salt Rising Bread.—To 1 pt. hot water put $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt, and when the water has sufficiently cooled to not scald flour, add enough to make a very soft batter. Stir thoroughly and place in a kettle of warm water (or warming oven) and keep the temperature even until the batter is very light, when add flour to make a soft dough. Mix thoroughly and lightly and put again in a warm place to rise. Then mould into loaves and bake in a moderate oven when light. It is an improvement to add two potatoes, well sifted, when the water and flour are added.

In Terrible Agony.

BROOKLYN, April 28, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—Last spring I was attacked with acute pain in the region of the Kidneys, and suffered like a dog. Hearing of your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE in some way, I tried it (after suffering for a month with constant torture under a doctor), and experienced relief at once, and in thirty-six hours after taking the same I passed a Stone as large as a pea, and have been perfectly free ever since. If you have any occasion for reference in this place, use this.

His Cries Could be Heard a Block Away!

BROOKLYN, E. D., July 2, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs.—I have been terribly afflicted for over two years with Gravel. Last year I was confined to my bed for seven weeks and this spring for nine weeks and at times the pains in my kidneys were so intense that my cries could be heard a block away. I could not pass my water except in drops and with terrible agony. I employed the best of physicians and took quantities of different remedies but none of them relieved me. Finally I was induced to try WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE through the influence of Mr. W. C. Thurston, who passed a Stone as large as a pea and who was cured by it. Before I had finished a second bottle a Stone passed from me the size of a pea, followed afterwards by smaller ones, which had been dissolved by your grand remedy. I thank God that I am all right now!

A Wonderful Transformation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 2, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—About four months ago I was seized with a severe pain in my side just in the region of the kidneys. The physicians pronounced it the passage of a Stone from the kidneys to the bladder. I suffered intensely and finally became so prostrated that I repaired to Oakland, but with no appreciable benefit. I was so weak indeed while there that I had to be lifted from the cars to the hotel. A relative advised me to try WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. I used perhaps fifteen or twenty bottles of it accordingly and am as well as I ever was.

MONROE, N. C., Feb. 15, 1881.

BICKETT & GRIFFIN, Sirs:—I am happy to inform you that WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, which Dr. Bickett prescribed for me, had a delightful result. I had suffered intensely at times for years with Calculus, and I had almost despaired of getting any permanent relief from the terrible agony. I took the medicine as directed and to my great joy got clear of a very large Calculus under the power of that great medicine.

Yours truly,

Perfectly Well Again.

NEW CASTLE, IND., May 30, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—I have suffered twelve years with kidney and liver disease and Stone in the bladder. Three years ago my bladder was cut open and a large stone taken out. Then came violent inflammation of the kidneys. The best physicians could do nothing for me, but a few bottles of WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE made me a perfectly well man.

Yours truly,

Honest and Effective.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., March 16, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—I took four bottles of your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE for Gravel. It dissolved and passed away a large stone, which had been forming for years. I am now a well man. Your remedy is unquestionably honest and effective and as such I recommend it.

Yours truly,

PICKLES—Preserved Crab Apple.—Take the Red Siberian Crab-Apple, leave the stems on and heat slowly to boiling in water sufficient to cover them. When the skins break skim them out of the pan and remove the skins. Allow 1 and one-fourth lbs. sugar and 1 teacup of water to every pound of fruit. Boil water and sugar until the scum ceases to rise. To the syrup add the juice of 1 lemon to every 1 lbs. of fruit. Add the fruit, boil until tender, and can immediately.

Pickle Peaches, Pears, etc.—Ten lbs. fruit, 4 and one-half lbs. sugar, 1 qt. vinegar; mace, cinnamon and cloves to taste. Prick each peach with a fork, then heat peaches in water enough to cover them. Then take them out. Add to the water, sugar, vinegar and spices in a bag. Boil until scum ceases to rise, then return fruit to syrup, and can when tender.

Tomato Catsup.—To 1 gal. of tomatoes take 2 tablespoonsful salt, 2 black pepper, 1 mustard, one-half allspice, one-half cloves, one-half cinnamon, 2 red peppers and 1 pt. of good vinegar.

DYSPEPSIA.

A Disease Which is Commonly but an Effect of Disordered Kidneys and Liver.

The stomach is the laboratory of the blood, and if the laboratory is out of order of course the blood is imperfectly formed, and if the blood is imperfectly formed, it imperfectly nourishes the body. Thus the stomach is the beginning and end of life. If the liver and kidneys perform their natural work in a healthy manner, we have the stomach furnishing the blood, the blood nourishing the body and the kidneys and liver removing the waste poisonous material which is collected from all parts of the system. There can be no perfect health if any one of these triple duties is imperfectly performed. It is very plain to be seen that in the majority of cases Dyspepsia is only the secondary symptom of an irregular action of the kidneys or liver. It is a peculiarity well known to physicians, that if one has a torpid liver (the liver and kidneys being so intimately associated) the probabilities are that he will have a torpid kidney, and if he has inflammation of the kidneys, he will have inflammation of the liver. It follows that there can be no serious Dyspepsia, either as a primary disease or as a secondary symptom, if the kidneys and liver are in a healthy condition.

Dyspepsia is indeed a horrible complaint. It produces headache in its worst form, great depression of spirits, melancholia, and if it does not drive to suicide it makes life miserable to the last degree. If the liver does not remove the biliary poisons from the blood, it produces constipation, yellow and bloated skin, and amongst women all those disorders of sex which cause so much suffering and for which so little suitable treatment is given by physicians. If the kidneys do not remove the acid poisons from the blood there will be occasional shooting pains in the stomach, loss of appetite, general dejection of spirits, rapid bloating or wasting away of the tissues, great disorders in the head, heart and lungs, and eventually chronic inflammation of the kidneys under its various names, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's disease.

The secret of the operation of our SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE and our SAFE PILLS in all Stomach Disorders, especially those which are secondary to a disordered condition of the kidneys and liver, is that they act directly, and with equal effect, upon each of these blood purifiers, drive the inflammation entirely from the system, and thus thoroughly invigorate the organs for the performance of the all-essential duties of cleansing the blood. Thus removing the cause of so much of the Dyspepsia that prevails they do away with the evil itself, and make health and happiness succeed dejection and despair. We present a very few of the many testimonials we have, showing how, by restoring the Kidneys and Liver to proper action, all Dyspeptic Disorders disappear. Read, and try our remedies for this complaint.

The Rev. Mr. Whitney's Experience.

LYSANDER, N. Y., July, 23, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—For thirty years I have suffered from Dyspepsia, constipation, and all the other concomitants of that horrid disease. My kidneys were also diseased. At times it would seem as if my food turned to water, and then again I passed a very limited quantity of urine, very highly colored, with unnatural heat, sediment and frequent painful evacuations from four to twelve times a night, but now I rest all night. For years I have had darting pains through my lungs and body. My heart seemed crowded for room and enlarged. I could not lie on my left side, and I feared that something serious, and perhaps fatal, was coming upon me. I am satisfied now that the trouble was with my kidneys and liver, for these painful sensations have all passed away under your invaluable SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE and SAFE PILLS. I shall recommend your remedies without reserve far and near as I have an opportunity.

What Five Bottles Did for Her.

HOWELL, MICH. Aug. 15, 1881.

H. H. WARNER & Co. Sirs:—Ulcers of the Stomach and diseased kidneys have caused me for years greater sufferings than death. All doctors and other remedies were tried in vain, but five bottles of your SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE restored me to perfect health and I am sounding its praises everywhere and I will gladly give any inquirer the particulars of my case.

Mrs. J. W. Galloway

Fruit Jellies.—To every pint of juice allow 1 lb. granulated sugar. Fruit not too ripe is more desirable for jellies. When juice is prepared and has boiled 15 minutes, add sugar and allow to boil 1 minute. If fruit is very ripe boil a few minutes longer.

Wine Jelly.—One box Cox's gelatine soaked in 1 pt. cold water 1 hour, 2 lbs. sugar, rind of 1 and juice of 2 lemons. Add gelatine and pour in 1 qt. boiling water, stirring as you pour it in until the gelatine is dissolved, when add 1 pt. sherry wine. Strain and mould.

FISH AND GAME. - To Fry Fish.—Clean the fish and wipe dry. Have ready a pan of pork dripping (having first fried a few slices of pork to obtain it) or butter. Put in the fish and fry to a light brown. Season while cooking. Do not roll in flour. Serve hot.

Quail.—Quail are very nice to steam until nearly done, then roast in oven to a nice brown, basting frequently with melted butter in water. Serve them on soft-buttered toast.

We Do Not Print a Tithe of Our Testimonials.

Pickle Cucumbers.—(Will keep good the year around) To one-half bush. cucumbers 3 gal. water and 1 teacup salt. Heat the water to boiling and pour over the cucumbers four successive mornings. On the fifth morning remove the brine and pour over them 1 gal. boiling hot vinegar, (or enough to cover them) in which is dissolved a piece of alum the size of a butternut. Also put in a few roots of horse radish. Towards spring, new vinegar may be put on.

Chili Sauce.—Ten lbs. ripe tomatoes, peeled, 2 lbs. onions, 7 ounces green peppers, seeded, 6 ounces sugar, 4 ounces salt, one-half pt. vinegar. Slice tomatoes, chop onions and pepper, and boil all together until as thick as desired.

Spiced Grapes.—To every lb. fruit allow one-half lb. sugar, 1 pt. vinegar, 2 teaspoon cinnamon and cloves and 1 of allspice. Cook pulp and skins separately, skins until tender and pulp until soft, which seed by running through a colander. Then put pulp and skins together, add vinegar and sugar and spices (in a bag) and cook until of the right consistency.

Fish Frittens.—Take the remains of any fish which have been served the previous day, remove all the bones, and pound it in a mortar, add bread crumbs and mashed potatoes in equal quantities. Mix together half a teaspoonful of cream, with two well beaten eggs, some cayenne pepper and anchovy sauce. Beat it all up to a proper consistency, cut it into small cakes, and fry them in boiling lard.

We Have Cured the Worst Form of Rheumatism.

RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism is a cold which settles in the muscles and joints, and if the kidneys do not remove all the uric acid waste, this Rheumatism will become chronic and make life a burden. The inflammation cannot be healed as long as the blood is impure and hence it is that physicians regard Rheumatism as a "blood disease." If, then, the blood be in perfect order, Rheumatism may not be feared. The best physicians concur that the blood impurity which invites and sustains Rheumatism is uric acid. This is precisely the poison which should be taken from the blood by the kidneys and passed off through the water. In a general cold preceding Rheumatism the kidneys are impaired, the cold fever produces a great amount of uric acid in the body, the kidneys are unable to secrete it as fast as it is formed, and thus an accumulation of uric acid is made and the Rheumatism intensified. This uric acid corresponds to the sewage of cities. As long as it is freely discharged into the bladder and the water freely passes from the bladder there is no danger, but all things are at a risk if these organs fail in their work.

There are two forms of Rheumatism, the acute and chronic. The acute form is sometimes inflammatory, attacking the muscles of the entire body. This is a dangerous form, because it is liable to attack the heart. During the prevalence of this form the water will usually be dark and full of red deposit. The chronic form of Rheumatism which attacks the joints is less dangerous, but very painful and distressing. Sciatic Rheumatism is inflammation of the Sciatic nerve, and it is painful beyond expression. These maladies are all blood poisonings, which would never result if the kidneys and liver were in working order. Our SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE is a specific for every form of kidney disease, and diseases of the bladder and urinary organs of man and woman, and by assisting the kidneys to pass off the uric acid and the bladder to discharge the water, the uric acid element is removed from the system and when that is got out Rheumatism disappears. The process of cure is not always speedy, but it can be safely guaranteed if the SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE and the SAFE PILLS are taken regularly and faithfully according to directions. In the following testimonials note how uniformly Kidney Disease accompanies Rheumatic attacks. Indeed the latter is only a consequence of the former. We give but a few specimen testimonials of the thousands in our possession, but they are enough to show the power of our SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE and SAFE PILLS over this disease.

Special Notice.—In a pamphlet of this size, where such large type is used, it would be impossible to print even the names alone of those who have been cured of Bright's Disease, Kidney Disorders, Liver Diseases, Catarrh of the Bladder, Diabetes, Gravel, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Female Disorders, etc., etc., by our various Specific SAFE REMEDIES. Those we have given are but samples of thousands of others equally as strong, and we are ready at any time to furnish to any who may desire, additional evidences that we make no claim we cannot fully prove. We prepare only Specifics, and we know that they are able to do all that we claim for them.

FACTS WORTH KNOWING.—Iron Rust is removed by salt mixed with lemon juice. Mildew is removed by dipping in some buttermilk and laying in the sun. Fruit Stains are taken out by freezing, and hot water takes out new paint. Old Fruit Stains are taken out by bleaching on the grass when trees are in bloom.

For Severe Sprains.—The white of an egg, a tablespoonful vinegar and a tablespoonful of spirits of turpentine. Mix in a bottle, shake thoroughly, and bathe the sprain as soon as possible after the accident. This was published in Life Secrets, but it is re-published by request on account of its great value. It should be remembered by every one.

Waterbugs and Roaches can be driven away by sprinkling powdered borax in places they frequent. Saturate moth-infested articles with naphtha or benzine. It injures nothing and kills the destroyers. Ammonia will remove white spots from furniture. Borax water applied with a sponge removes spots from clothing without injury.

How to Calculate for Company.—Allow one quart of oysters to every three persons; one gallon of ice cream for every twenty persons; five chickens (or a ten pound turkey) boiled and minced, and fifteen heads of celery for chicken salad for fifty persons. For twenty guests: three chickens for salad, 100 pickled oysters, two molds charlotte russe, one gallon of oysters, four dozen biscuits.

Special Caution !

The high character of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure and other Safe Remedies, for excellence, purity and effectiveness, and their unexampled success, have stimulated unscrupulous persons to attempt to palm off upon the public worthless nostrums and imitations. These persons may add to their gains thereby, but the public suffers all the evil consequences.

The elements of our Safe Kidney and Liver Cure and Safe Diabetes Cure, are expensive, are not grown in this country, are known to us alone, are gathered for us exclusively, by us alone imported, and hence THEY CANNOT BE SUCCESSFULLY IMITATED. They are compounded by the very best Chemists, at heavy cost, and therefore the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure and Safe Diabetes Cure have to be sold at $1.25 a bottle. We regret that they do not yield as large a profit as other so called "medicines," but the public will not regard this as justification of deception and misrepresentation by unscrupulous persons.

When our patrons ask for Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure and other Safe Remedies, they should be sure they get THEM, and not worthless nostrums or cheap imitations, in dry, liquid or any other form. The superior merit and power of our Safe Remedies explain the unexampled demand for them, as well as the desire of unscrupulous persons to imitate them or seek to dispose of other goods said to contain similar ingredients.

To be SURE you get the GENUINE Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure and other Safe Remedies, note the following points:

All Safe Remedies, except the Safe Pills, are put up in dark amber glass bottles, with the SAFE (our Trade Mark) blown in the back. The Private proprietary 6 cent Internal Revenue Stamp, which is used on Safe Kidney and Liver Cure and Safe Diabetes Cure bottles, is affixed to the neck and covers the top of the cork, and is of a light brown color. In the middle thereof is a SAFE in outline, and on it the picture of a Negro gathering herbs. If this Stamp is not found on every bottle of the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure and Safe Diabetes Cure, or if there is any evidence that it has been tampered with, and if a SAFE is not blown in the back of the bottle, reject the bottle at once, and insist on having a GENUINE one, for you cannot afford to make experiments which will ruin your constitution.

The Safe Pills are put up in small plain glass Vials. The Wrappers and Paper Boxes of ALL our Safe Remedies bear the imprint of our Trade Mark—an IRON SAFE. None others are Genuine.

With the exception of the Safe Pills, our Safe Remedies are put up in liquid form only, and all dry, powdered, herb or other liquid preparations are UNTRUSTWORTHY IMITATIONS.

Our Safe Remedies have won an enviable place in public opinion. They are Standards of the highest merit, and in defending their fair name and warning the public not to be misled by cheaper, untried and injurious substitutes, we feel we are doing it a just and necessary service.
